Watching the players is not the only reason to go to ball games. Crowds have many interests other than the stands.

Even though we had an unsuccessful football season, there were some victorious moments. A Panther player scores a touchdown as others jump for joy.

With the whold world changing from day to day, it is only natural that the yearbook should be changing too. The greatest challenge that faced the 1976 PANTHER staff was how we could keep up with our changing world, but still put out a yearbook that the students would enjoy.

Where to begin was the first obstacle faced by a relatively rookie staff.

The first step in compiling a successful high school yearbook is deciding on a theme. Since 1976 is a year different from all others and since the 1976 PANTHER is a different yearbook, we decided on: OPEN THE DOOR . . . COME ON IN, SEE THE CHANGES IN OUR WORLD.

We felt that this theme was appropriate and would introduce the book to the students in a manner that would enable them to see the year in a clear perspective.

There are several obvious changes that may need some explanation. We decided to look at the teachers as people and present them in a more relaxed atmosphere. Some new layouts are fashion, entertainment, school policy, the black student, and several more. Since this is the 200th birthday of America, there is a special layout on our involvement in the Bicentennial.

Many long hours have been spent on the 1976 PANTHER and the staff is proud of the finished product.

We hope the students will examine the pages with open minds and in twenty years will be able to look at this book and remember clearly how 1976 was different from all other years.

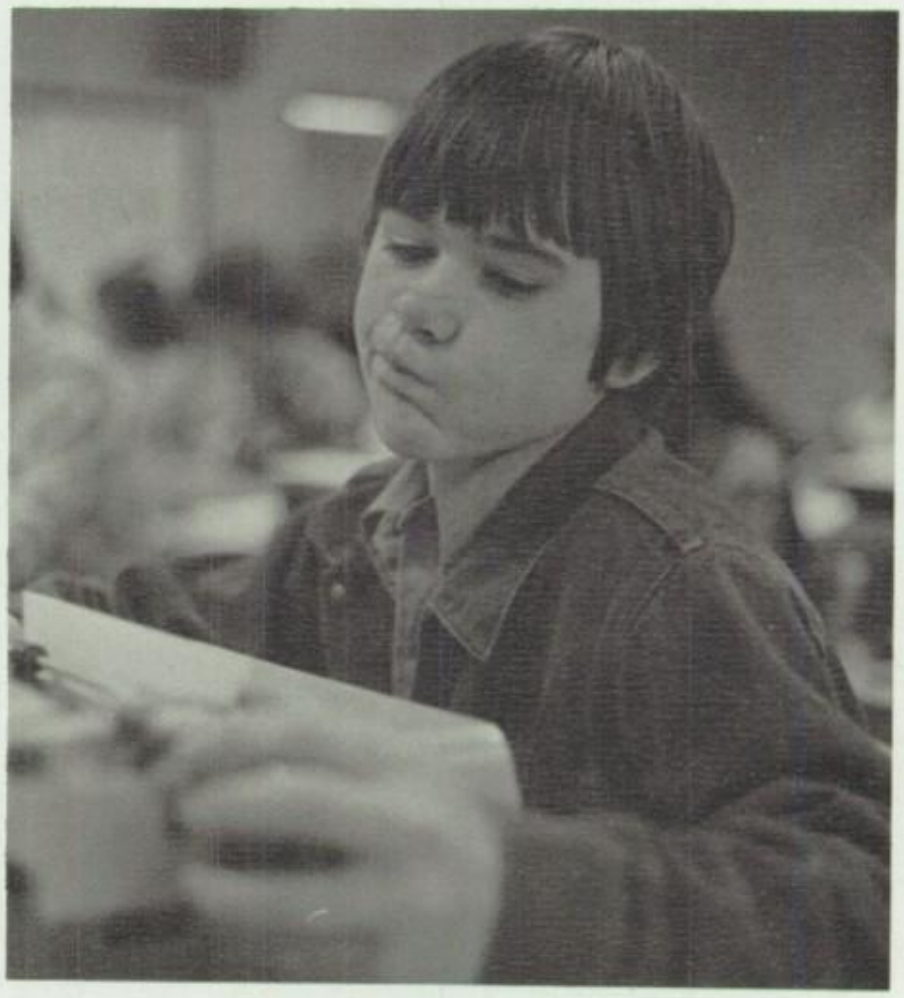
Terry McKenzie and Scott Gregory post the Kentucky Bicentennial flag as a Student Council project.

A first for the Speech and Drama Club was their production of a controversial play about society, THE WOMEN. This was also their first dinner theatre.

This is a year for new ideas — changes in student government and administrative policy.

The most noticeable change is, perhaps, in the yearbook, but the greatest change is in the students themselves.



During typing class, mistakes cause many moans and groans and expressions of disgust as illustrated by Denny Price.

Debbie Nash takes on a comfortable position in the front office while waiting for the 3:00 bell.

Randy Jedele, one of the new teachers, takes advantage of "slouch day" during football homecoming, as he watches the powder-puff game.

A Senior Class

Every year a new class graduates from this high school. Every year it is a little different. What is it that makes a senior class? Is it knowing each other for the past twelve years or being in the same classes? Maybe this is part of it, but the main thing is the attitudes of the people in it. This was not the closest class ever to graduate or the smartest or the highest achieving, but it has something - the dedication it takes to keep working to make school a worthwhile place to spend twelve years.

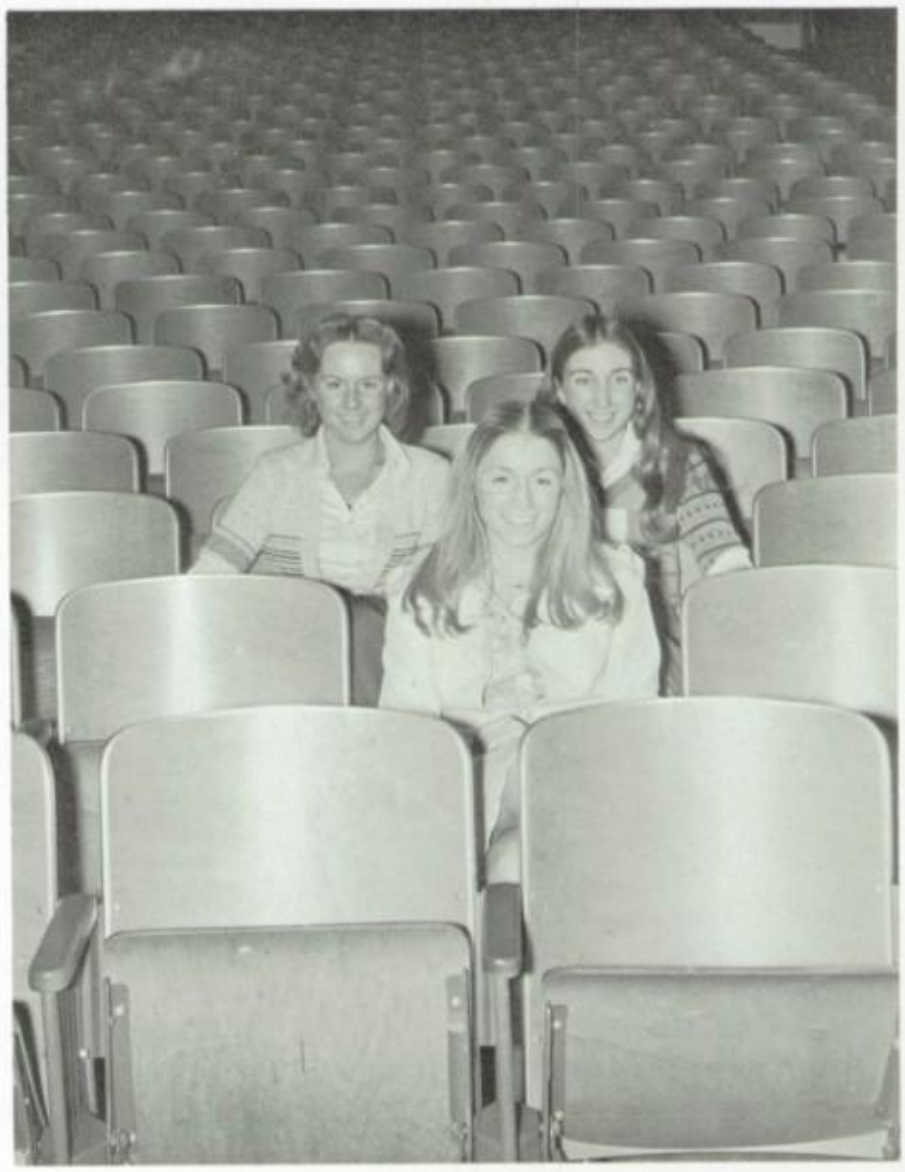
Summer Workshops

During the school year, many projects are used. These take careful planning and capable leaders are needed to form organizations in a constructive manner. Summer workshops have proved to be good learning experiences for interested students. These people cared enough to give up part of their summer for RHS.

Pam Jureka attended the International Relations Program in Louisville, and Sharon Dockins, the Western Kentucky Journalism Workshop.

The Student Council delegates to Georgetown Leadership Workshop were: Renee Fuqua, Sonya Violett, and Shannon Kirkpatrick.

Members of speech workshops were: Beverly Williamson, Jay Joines, Elizabeth Wilson, Debbie Williams, Duane Spurlock, and Catherine Hancock.



FBLA Workshop members were: Sonya Violett, Mary Jo Allen, Bob Hedges, and Kathy Vincent.

Marianne Rhea and Cay Harris were chosen to represent us at Girls' State. Jeff White was chosen for Boys' State.

The Marching Band performs in a half time show. The band put in many hard hours of practice at the Austin Peay Workshop this summer.

Many events that ordinarily did not happen were commonplace this year. RHS - via the Student Council - was presented with a Kentucky Bicentennial flag. It had the ensignia for Kentucky's bicentennial theme. The flag was flown with the American flag daily.

The state had many special events also. A Kentucky Oral History Commission interviewed people around Logan County seventy years old and over. A Bicentennial Block was also proposed for the state. Each county received an amount of money proportionate to their population for beautification purposes. Each town chose one block in their city for this purpose.

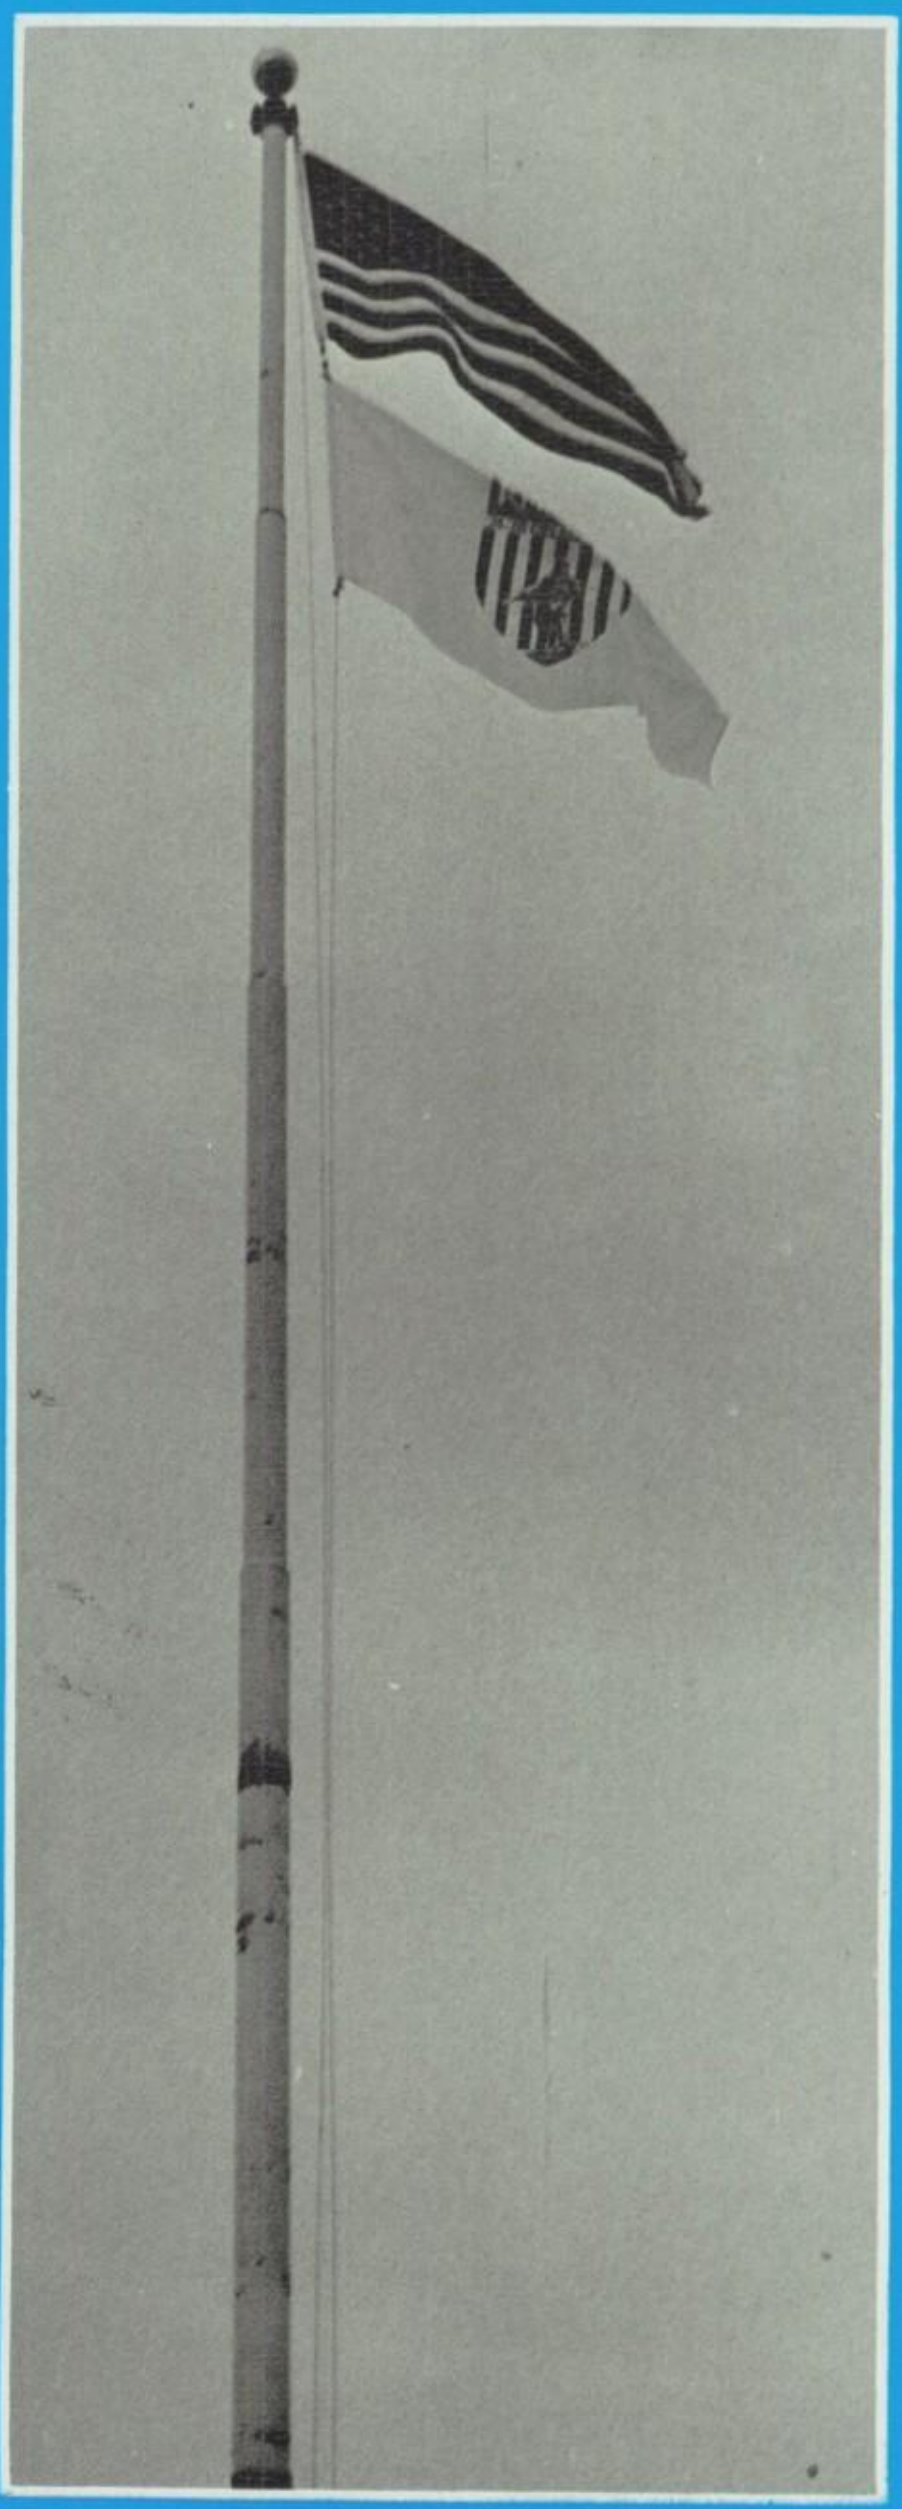
The Federal Department of Human Resources sponsered the Youth Bicentennial Debates. Three girls from RHS were finalists at Hodgenville, in the sectional competition. Elizabeth Wilson, a senior at RHS, won the extemporaneous division; Marianne Rhea, also a senior, placed second in public speaking; and Beverly Williamson, a sophomore, took third in the Lincoln-Douglas debate event. Elizabeth represented this section in the regional tournament in Williamsburg, Virginia in April.

The Treasury Department began producing bicentennial coins. These came in several denominations - 25¢, 50¢, $1.00. They featured different figures from America's past.

1976 was also an election year. From February 24, when the primary in New Hampshire took place, until the end of the year, candidates names flooded TV screens, car bumpers, and newspapers. In lead of the Republicans we saw Gerald Ford, an incumbent president. His opponent, Ronald Reagan, seemed at first a great threat - but later took a weak position in the race. On the Democratic side of the slate, Jimmy Carter, the peanut farmer from Georgia, lead the way through the early primaries. Every Tuesday night, Americans were blasted with the latest primary returns.

The seniors at RHS were offered red, white, and blue graduation gowns and tassels - but declined. Slogans such as "Stand proud, stand tall, stand American!" became common on the bumpers of cars. A play presented by the P.A.R.T. Foundation entitled "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere", was free to the public.

With the pagentry, celebrations, election and everything else, 1976 was a very special year.



The Black World

A pensive mood. Freshman Lauvonia Temple strikes a pensive look during a Career Opportunities field trip.

There was a time when blacks were greatly discriminated against in our educational systems, but all that has changed. The blacks have accomplished much since the schools have become integrated.

The black students have become involved in every aspect of school life and are proud to be a part of RHS. They have contributed to athletics, speech and drama, and other school sponsored clubs. Throughout the years, the blacks have acquired a prominent place in Russellville High School.

Not only do they play an important role in school life, but in the community as well. There are several social, civic, and religious organizations that they join.

Most of the black students here spend their free time at Todd's Cafe. They also have dances, and parties, and other get togethers with friends.

By taking advantage of opportunities, the blacks have contributed much to student life.

A Week of Traditional Changes

Tobacco Festival 1975

TOBACCO FESTIVAL in Logan County is an annual event which is celebrated during the fall of each year. New faces, floats, flowers, and friends winning the traditional awards help to make it a time of changes.

Many events sponsored by different organizations are held during the week. These events coincide with the theme for the festival. On Thursday night, the yearly beauty pageant is held and on the following Saturday is the parade. These are the two main events of the week.

Members of the 1975 court were: 3rd Nancy Mullen; 1st, Catherine Hancock; 1975 QUEEN, Rhonda Simmons; 2nd, Cathy Wheeler; 4th, Madonna Anderson; Miss Congeniality, Renee Fuqua; 1974 QUEEN, Pam Shelton.

TOBACCO FESTIVAL is not only an event for adults, but many RHS students participated and won awards. The Chamber of Commerce sponsored most of the events. The winners of the tennis tournament were: 1st place Renee and Randy Fuqua; 2nd place Sandra Eggleston and Kevin Robbins. Also in the sports events was Forrest Killebrew who won several awards in the track competition. Saturday events included Mike Baugh's 1st place car and a pie contest in which Sherry Gilliam was a contestant. The RHS Band came through as usual with an outstanding performance for the parade.

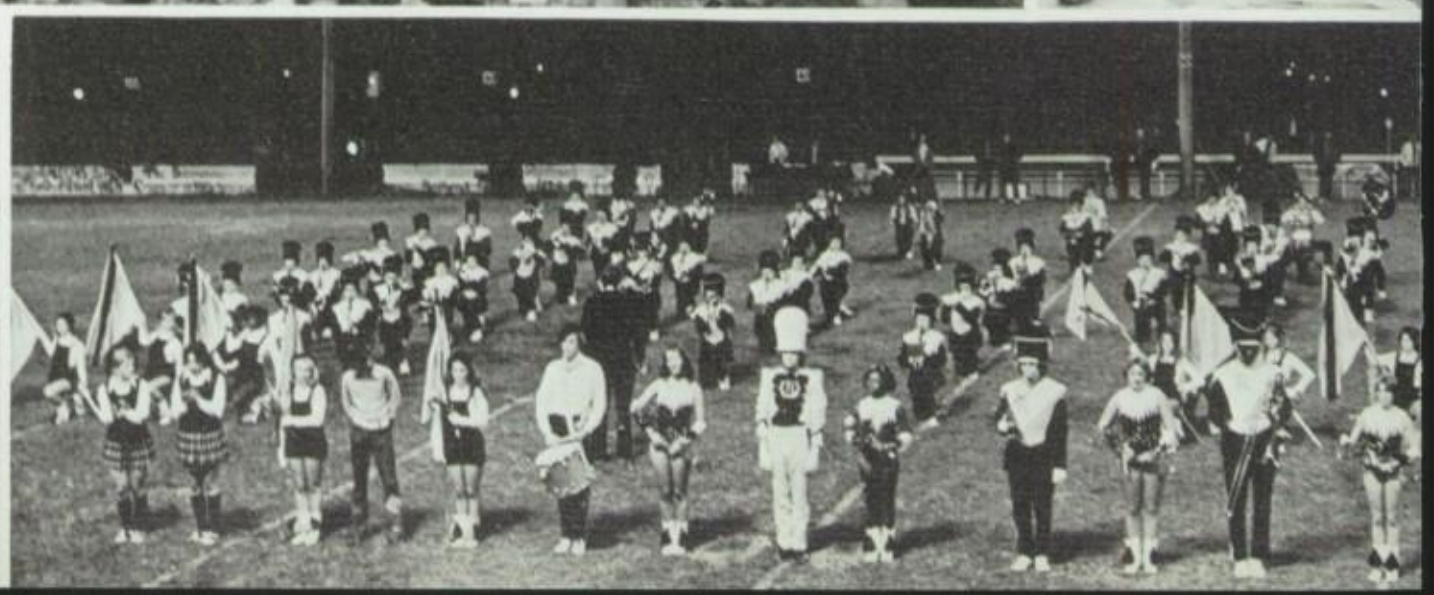
There have been several significant changes in the school policy this year. One of the greatest changes concerned rules and punishments. At the beginning of the year, each student was given a sheet which listed the new policy. Every student had to sign a sheet stating that he had read and understood the new policy. Mr. Young, the supertintendent, wanted everyone to be aware of the rules and regulations so that no excuses could be made. The signing of this sheet is not used for legal purposes; it is strictly a school requirement.

This year no written excuses have been accepted for absences. Instead, a simple phone call from a parent explaining the absence is all that has been required.

Another policy that affected many students is the driving issue. As of this year, a school employee is required to drive to all school related functions.

"No significant changes have been planned for next year, as yet . . ." stated Larry Chelf, principal, when we asked about school policy changes for the next school year.



October 6-10

The week began with anticipated confusion . . .

Anyone who has any connection with an R.H.S. Homecoming realizes that it takes a lot of time, effort, and teamwork to make the week worthwhile. Our goal was to boost the spirit of the students and the morale of the team until we reached the ultimate goal, VICTORY! Pep Club president, Rhonda Simmons was in charge of planning the week. On Monday, the theme was "Hush-Button" day. Tuesday followed with the theme of "Newspaper" day and Wednesday held the theme of "Fifties" day. Thursday, Student Council sponsored a Powder Puff football game where the Junior and Senior girls captured a VICTORY over the Freshmen and Sophomores. Teachers even became involved on "Teacher Slouch" day. Pep Rallies were held all week. Student Council held a car bash and Homecoming King Jimmy Hampton was crowned. Pep Club sold corsages for the game after the mini-float parade Friday afternoon. The cheerleaders and band members gave an excellent program from the beginning to the end. Friday turned out to be an "Overall Spirit" day, ending the week with everyone pulling for a big win Friday night. Many mistakes were made during the week. The record-holding goof occurred at the annual Thursday night parade and bonfire when the bonfire wouldn't burn! Everything turned out successful and the students enjoyed the week. Friday night, the halftime show was presented. Miss Renee Fuqua was crowned 1975 Homecoming Queen. Renee is a Senior. Other candidates were; Freshman, Melissa Baldwin; Sophomore, Angelia McMillin; Junior, Hattie Sydnor; Senior, Sheila Johnson. Representing the Pep Club were: Senior, Terri Hatchett; Senior, Debbie Taylor; and Queen Renee Fuqua. The 1974 Homecoming Queen, Miss Laurie Southerland, and Captains, Jimmy Lee Hampton, David Duncan, and Diane Gilliam, presented Renee with her crown, flowers, and sceptor. Football players were escorts for the event. At 8:00, October 10, the Panthers met the Warren Central Dragons and and left with an exciting 26-21 VICTORY! The whole week then seemed worthwhile. Even though the week was filled with confusion and chaos . . .

it ended with an ultimate VICTORY!

The Many Expressions of a

Basketball Homecoming

The most exciting game of the Basketball season is Homecoming. All week long preparations are made for the big game. All students join together to help the Pep Club plan the activities. This year school was canceled due to bad weather and the week was shorter than usual. The main events of the week were the hall sections, in which the seniors placed first, and the spirit chains made by each class in which the freshmen won first. Spirit at the pep rally was judged and again the seniors were above all. Like in any event where students all work together, there were many different expressions of emotion.

Friday night the Panthers met Dawson Springs and suffered from an unexpected defeat. The cheerleaders, coaches, and crowd supported the players 'til the end yet were forced to see a Homecoming loss of a heartbreaking 1 point.

Miss Rita Bellamy was crowned 1976 Basketball Homecoming Queen. Other candidates were: Freshman, Cheryl Keeton; Sophomore, Queen Rita Bellamy; Junior, Deborah Dudley; Senior, Terri Hatchett. Representing the Pep Club were: Seniors, Ella Evans and Sandra Graham. Meg Threlkeld, Diane Gilliam, Felix Gilbert, and Forrest Killebrew presented Rita with flowers, crown, and sceptor. The 1975 Queen, Bathsheba Taylor, crowned Rita.

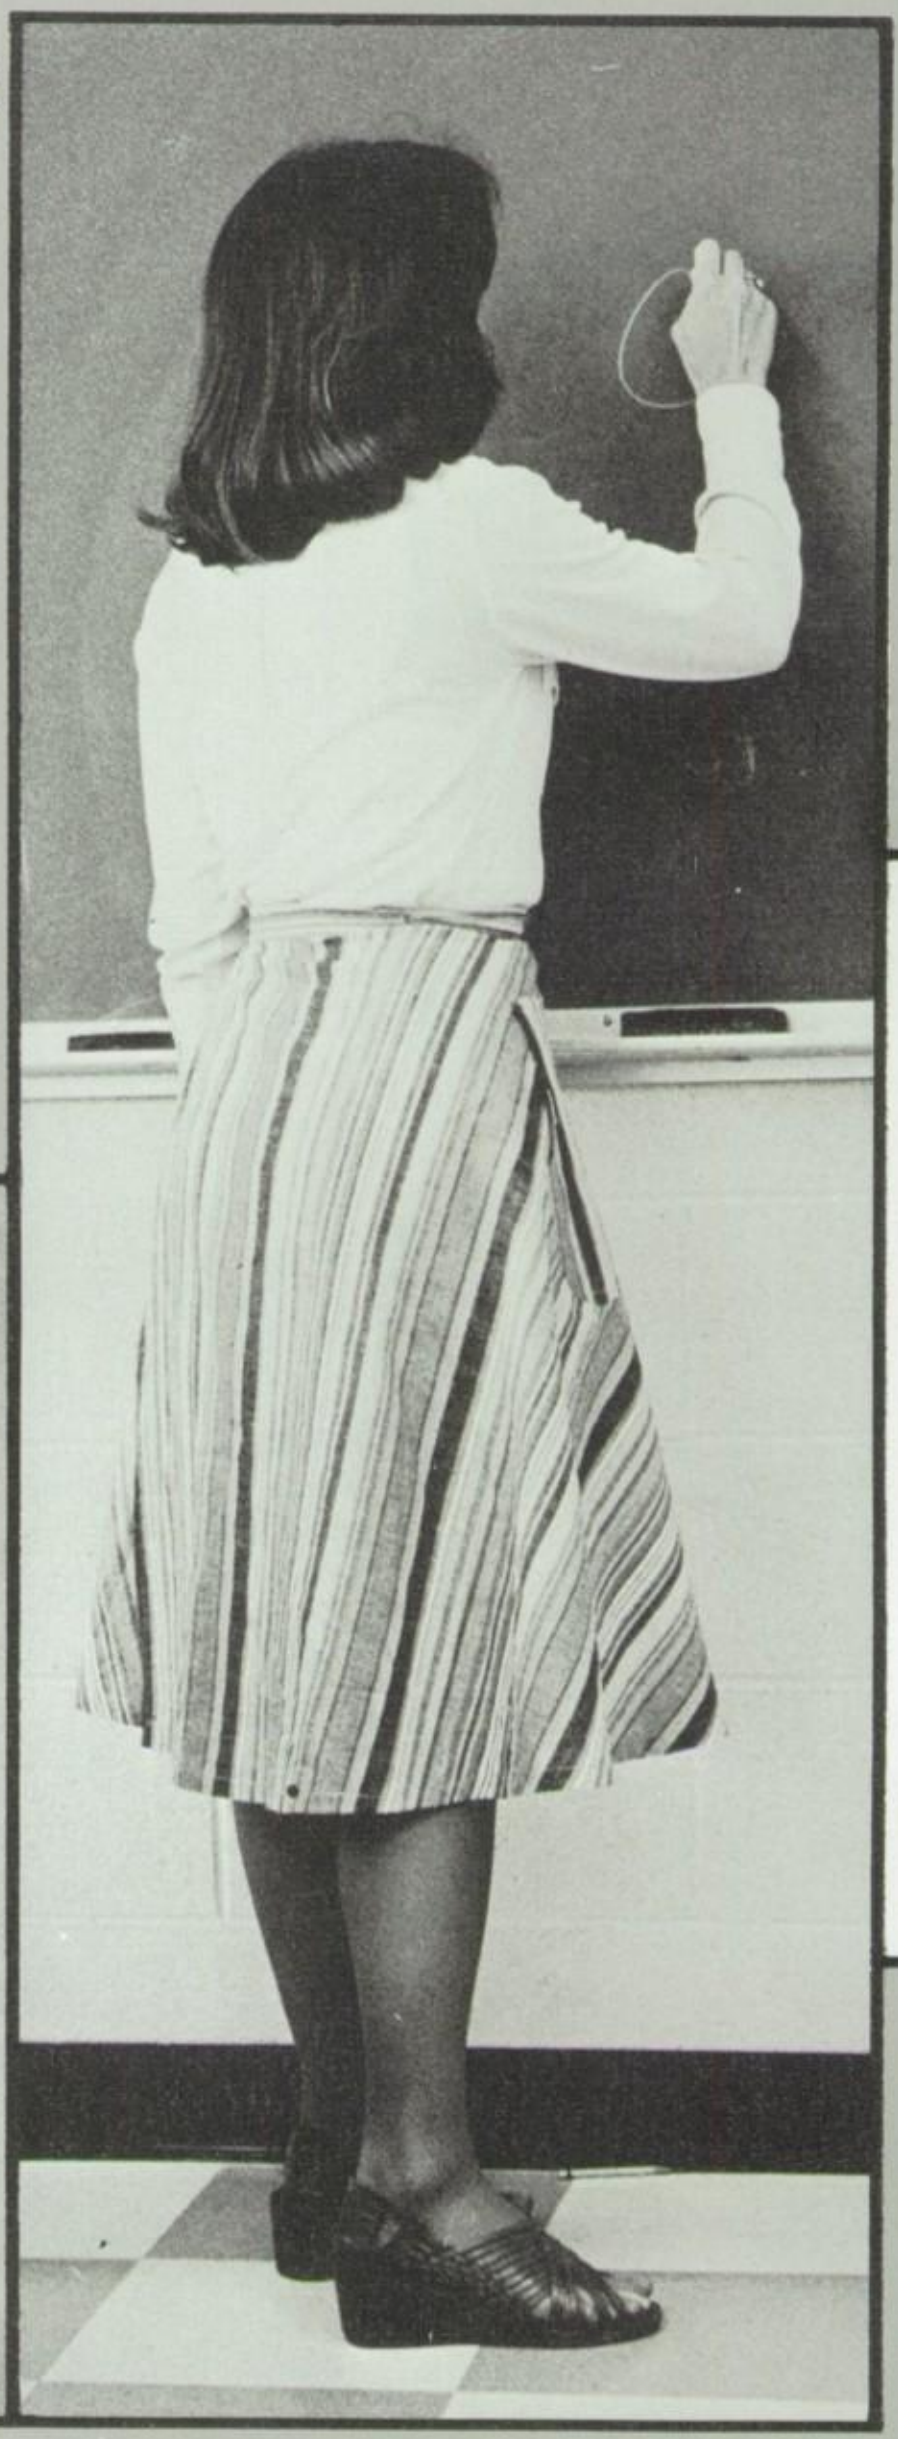
The Way We Wore

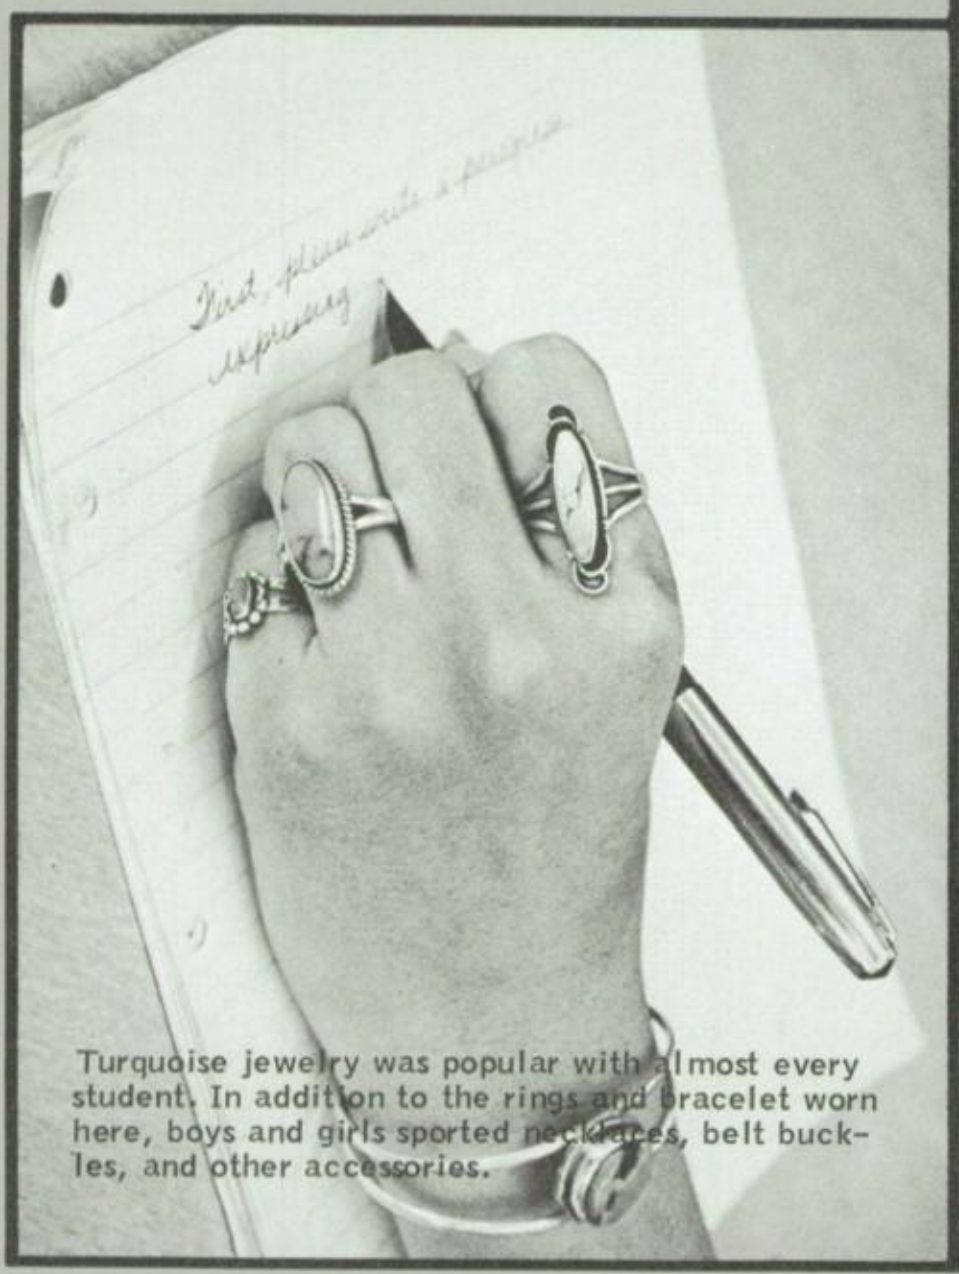
Because many changes take place in the styles of clothes worn during a school year, we decided to open the door and look inside to see what students were wearing during the nine long months of '75-'76.

In the fall of 1975 knee length skirts grew in popularity with the girls, who began to give up jeans for a more feminine look. Also during the fall, "Earth Shoes" became a popular item worn by both boys and girls.

In the winter, suede coats were worn by students and teachers alike. Lots of girls returned from the two-week vacation with a mood ring and almost everyone got something turquoise for Christmas.

Toward the spring, jumpsuits were a favorite with the girls. Both boys and girls wore white "painters pants."



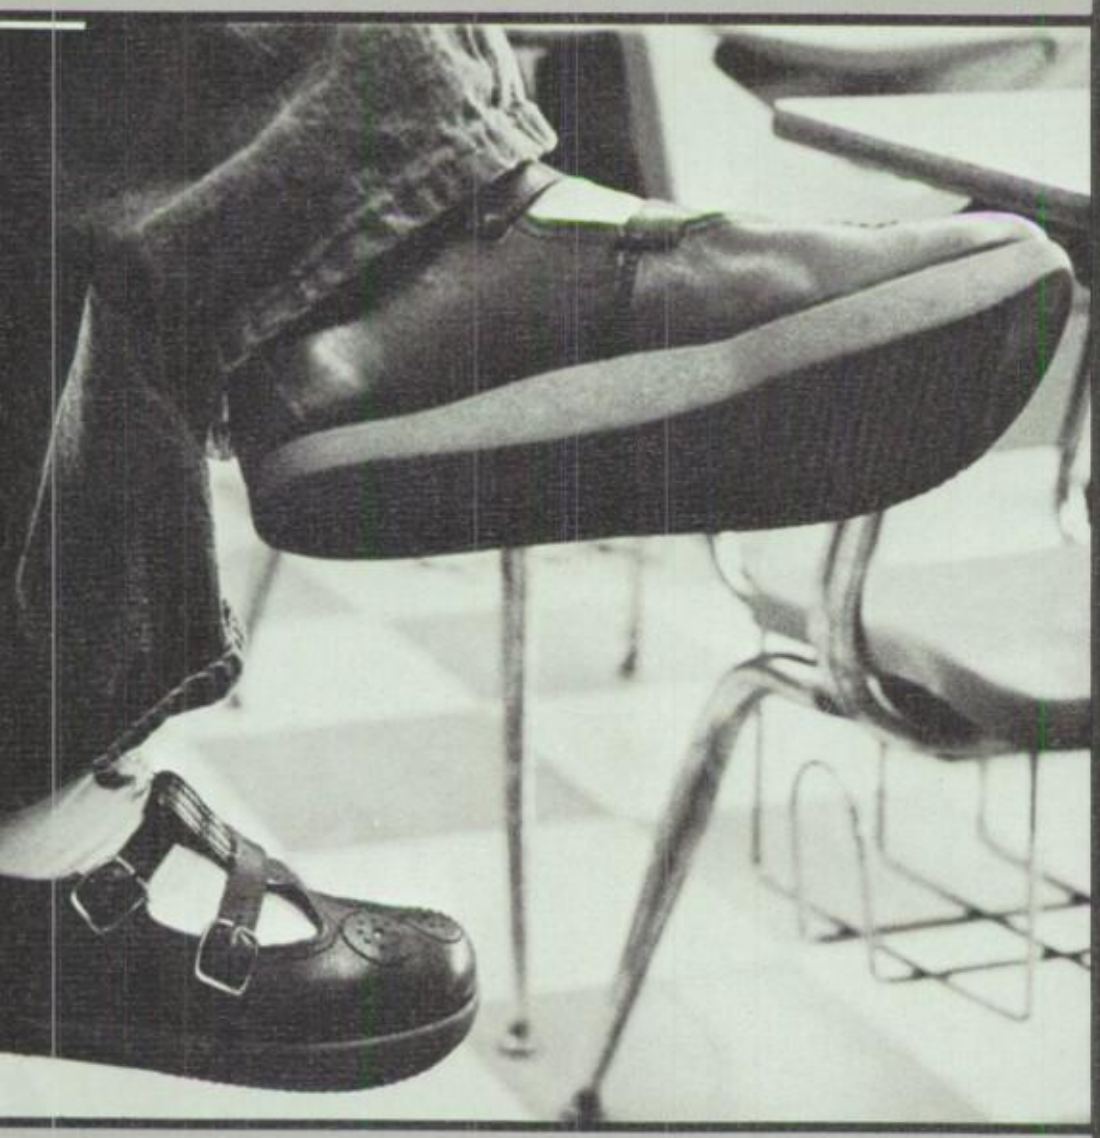


Turquoise jewelry was popular with almost every student. In addition to the rings and bracelet worn here, boys and girls sported necklaces, belt buckles, and other accessories.

Boys took a greater-than-usual interest in fashion this year. They wore jewelry at school, and for dressier occasions, guys replaced their jeans with leisure and three-piece suits.

Many fashions that made a small splash last year made a big hit this year. Long haired girls became an unusual sight after almost every girl had her hair cut in a short, layered, or afro style.

Scarves and bandanas became common accessories, as did wedge-heeled shoes. But all time favorites--jeans, overalls, comfortable shoes and shirts--still held on to their important place in the fashion scene here at RHS.



The funny looking "Earth Shoe" with fat toes and low heels became very popular with boys and girls during the fall and winter.

Knees showed less and calves showed more. Shannon Kirkpatrick is wearing one of the longer skirts that became increasingly popular this year.

Jewelry, in years past only worn by girls, became a common place accessory with many boys. Chokers, such as the one Mike Henning is wearing, were popular.

Short hair replaced long for many RHS girls. Renee Fuqua is only one of many who made the change.

Billy Morgan and Reneé Fuqua

Mr. and Miss RHS

In keeping with tradition, we again elected Mr. and Miss RHS. This is an annual event which honors the members of each class who best represent the overall spirit of Russellville High. One tradition that was broken this year is the election of Billy Morgan as Mr. RHS. This is the first time (so far as we know) that a sophomore boy has ever held this position. Renee Fuqua, a senior, was elected Miss RHS. Both Billy and Renee are actively involved in school organizations and athletics. Kevin Robbins and Samra Linton were elected Mr. and Miss Freshman. Samra is a Junior Varsity Cheerleader and Kevin holds a high position on the Boys' Tennis Team. Representing the Sophomore Class are Anita Beard and Ronnie Croslin. Ronnie is an active athlete, participating in three major sports, and Anita is involved in girls' athletics. Deborah Dudley and Mike Baugh represent the Junior Class. Both Deborah and Mike participate in several school activities. Meg Threlkeld and Mike Robbins are Mr. and Miss Senior. Meg and Mike are both active students. Meg has been a Varsity Cheerleader for two years while Mike plays both Varsity Basketball and Golf.

RHS Students Receive Honors

Every year many RHS students receive honors other than for school work. Also every year, these honors go unnoticed. This year we will try to congratulate these people and give them the recognition that they deserve.

Four of our outstanding senior band members were recently received in the All American Band Hall of Fame. Bob Williams, Kevin McReynolds, Forrest Killebrew, and John Goodwin were recommended for this honor by band director, David Corbin, through Purdue University.

Seven RHS students participated in an American Enterprise Workshop in the spring. Those attending the workshop were Terry McKenzie, Archie Gordon, Doris McCormick, Penny Vaughn, Mary Ann Young, Marianne Rhea, and Sharon Dockins. Marianne, Sharon, and Archie will be attending the state workshop in June. Mary Ann Young may also attend as an alternate.

Senior, Terry Martin received a check for fifteen dollars plus an honorable mention in the state essay contest sponsored by the Kentucky Commission for Employment of the Handicapped. Terry was eligible for state competition after she won first place in the region.

Also winning an essay contest was Renee Fuqua. Renee won first place in the Kentucky Conservation Essay contest. Kevin Robbins, a freshman, was runner-up in this event.

David Martin, sophomore, is only one of a few students interested in karate. David has his white belt, seventh degree, and is working on his blue. His training has come to a temporary standstill until his class can find a new practice area.

Extempor Elizabeth Wilson won fourth place in the National Bicentennial Youth Debates held in Williamsburg, Virginia. Elizabeth has been interested in extemp all through high school and has participated in four national tournaments.

These are only a few of our outstanding students. We are proud of these people and we congratulate them.

Method Changing But Meaning Remains

Lots of things change in life--friends, attitudes, styles, slang--but there are some things that don't ever really change. This year seemed to change on the surface, but the meaning remained.

APATHY! What is the real meaning of this word? Webster's NEW COLLEGIATE DICTIONARY says that apathy is a "lack of emotion or excitement." Now, many people would describe RHS as being extremely apathetic. Perhaps this is not completely true. Even though this school has been called dead or apathetic, there was never any real lack of spirit. If anything, this year was jam-packed with new activities. Many students became very involved in both curricular and extra-curricular activities.

Along with this enthusiasm for club projects, came a bit of rivalry among them. Some people became very discouraged when they found themselves forced to choose between two or more conflicting activities. This was especially hard on those who had worked hard for more than one organization. This even caused several people to stop particpating in club activities altogether.

This conflicting interest also resulted in some name calling. It was not unusual for a person to be "labeled" for working on certain projects. Even though this was common-place, it was almost always just in fun.

Not only was there a split among clubs, there was also a change in the classes. During spirit week, there was still competition among classes which almost resulted in a fracas. The senior class also had some trouble sticking together at times.

Yet, something was evident in this year, as in past years; Panther Spirit--spirit measured not by loudness of a pep rally or the turnout at a dance, but by the over-all attitude of the students--was still here underneath it all.

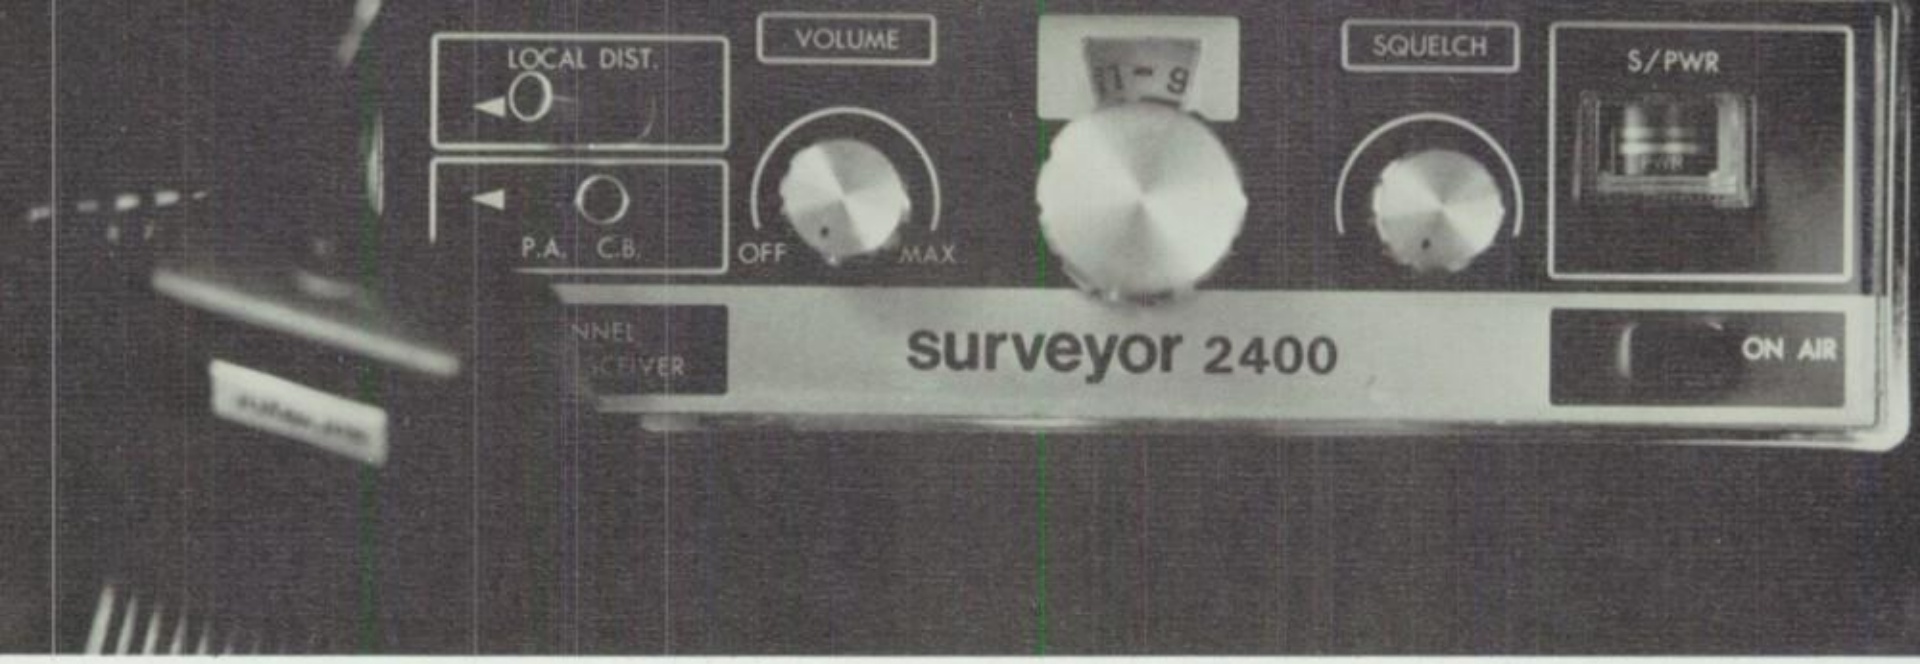
And

That's Entertainment!

There are always favorite places like Tastee, Village Barn, Todd's, and Sylfonis' to eat. Tennis really became popular at R.H.S. in '76. New courts were built at the city park. First Baptist Church provided a recreation night weekly. Anyone could come to play ping-pong, basketball, volleyball, or just to be with people. If you didn't have somewhere special to go, you could always ride around. Many nights, Bethel Shopping Center could be found full of cars where people had just stopped to talk. If you were involved in school, there was plenty to do on week nights. Club meetings, practices, and some sport activities were held nightly at the high school. No matter where we were or what the occasion, we had good times in '76. Our entertainment was not so much what we did, but it was who we were with and again next year when people change, so will their entertainment.



"What do you want to do tonight?" "I don't know, what do you want to do?" "I don't know."

How many times have you said or heard this expression on Friday afternoon at R.H.S. It always seems as if the weekend will never get here and then when it does, there's nothing to do. This isn't just a problem in a small town; it's the same anywhere you go. Real entertainment doesn't mean you have to have a certain place to go; it simply means having a good time and we all know you can do that anywhere, anytime. It's just a matter of being with people you like.

Like everything else that changed at R.H.S. in 1976, entertainment was no exception. New places to go, new hobbies, new friends--all contributing to make '76 a year different from all others.

Of course some things never change. There are always ballgames, dances, places to "hang out", and places to park. (Ask your parents.) But 1976 had some very noticeable changes that will always be remembered and will never be the same.

Citizen Band radios were one of the most prominent forms of entertainment. A whole new lingo was started for communication and each owner had a new name called a "handle".

ADMIRABLE

We at Russellville had our share of culture with the production of five major plays this season. Three of the five were drama department productions, one was presented by the senior class, and for the second consecutive year, Mrs. Hazel Carver, with the help of Mary Beth Dowden and Marguerite Simmons, produced and directed a popular musical.

The opening play of the season was a drama department production under the direction of Coach Jim Turner. THE WOMEN was the first really controversial production ever presented here. Coach Turner felt that the success of this play was important in an effort to upgrade the drama department and to expose the community to a different form of entertainment.

THE WOMEN was based upon the so-called "trials and tribulations" of the New

York City "social set." Although there were several humorous scenes in THE WOMEN, it was basically a serious story. Several fine actresses gave excellent dramatic performances.

Peggy Reeder directed this year's senior play. M*A*S*H. This was a different approach to the theatre in this school because Coach Turner had always directed it before. Mrs. Reeder is the newly appointed senior co-ordinator, and her first high school production should definitely be considered a success. The senior class made all the preparations for M*A*S*H including publicity, props, and of course, the acting..Although the play was a hit, everyone wondered if the class was going to survive.

During the Christmas season the drama department and Coach Turner presented a children's theatre Christmas story, THE NUTCRACKER. This play used not only the talent of the actors and actresses, but also enlisted the aid of dancers. To adequately depict the story of the famous Nutcracker, much work was done on costumes for snowflakes, mice, candy canes, and numerous others. A basic set was used and the children's imagination was important to make the play a complete success.

The first production of the new year was also presented by the drama department and Coach Turner.

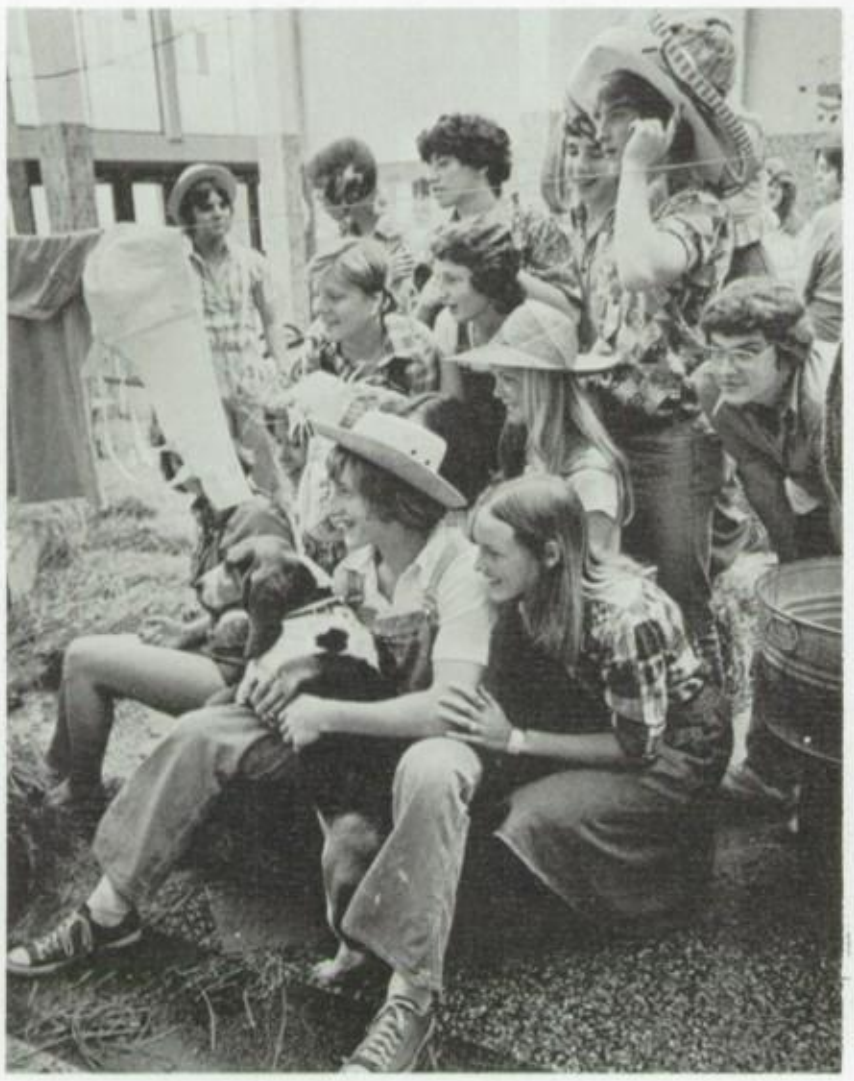
Right: Mrs. Gibbs (Diane Gilliam) and Mrs. Webb (Sherry Gilliam) shell peas while they discuss Mrs. Gibbs' legacy in OUR TOWN. Below: Will (Bob Williams) tells Aunt Eller (Rhonda Simmons) and the cowboys about Kansas City in OKLAHOMA. Opposite Page: Top: Hawkeye (Bob Williams) and Duke (Dale Clark) ask Ho-Jon (Jay Joines) to find them a dead cat during M*A*S*H. Bottom: Rebecca (Shannon Kirkpatrick) and George (Bob Williams) contemplate the moon during OUR TOWN.

OUR TOWN was a more difficult production which offered a greater challenge to the actors. This play was different from any other presented in deGraffenried because no flats or large props were constructed. All props that were used were carried on stage by the stage manager and crew after the play had begun. OUR TOWN could be considered a major step forward in theatre at RHS.

After her success with ANNIE GET YOUR GUN last year, Mrs. Carver decided to try her hand at something a little more involved. With the help of Ms. Dowden and Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Carver produced the musical version of HOW GREEN GROW THE LILACS, OKLAHOMA! This production involved a large part of the student body, including singers, dancers, and actors, alike. Everyone thought this year's musical couldn't possibly be any better than the last one, but after it was all over Mrs. Carver and the cast and crew had succeeded in outdoing themselves for the second year.

The people involved in the production of these five plays should be congratulated for their efforts and we should all appreciate what they have added to the school and to the community.

Hee-Haw



With the lobby decked out with barns, bras, and even radio station KORN, the juniors and the seniors got together for a real HEE-HAW.

Each year in May the junior class gives a party for the seniors. This was originally a ceremony to present the seniors a check of $100.00 for the class trip, but since there is no trip or money it has become a regular celebration

This year's theme was based on the TV show HEE-HAW. They performed a skit using a take-off script written by Algie Ray Smith. Most of the involved senior class members and seniors were the butts of many of the jokes.

Although the juniors performed for a slightly less-than-captive audience, the afternoon was considered a success. The menu consisted of corn dogs, potato chips, dill pickles, hoop cheese, and cokes. The greatest reason for the success might have been missing an afternoon of classes, but the juniors did put forth a lot of effort which was greatly appreciated.

Top Left: Juniors enjoyed the party as much or more than the seniors. A group of skit participants watch the show. Left: Nancy Humpheries and Harriett "Fuqua" seem to like sharing the same snack. Looking on are Marsha Johns, Marjorie Flowers, Carol Miles, and Cindy Statton

A DAY IN... DOGPATCH!

For the second year in a row, Student Council sponsored a dance for R.H.S. students. This year the theme was "Sadie Hawkins." All of the traditions were followed. The girls asked the boys to the dance and everyone dressed to the style of Dogpatch U.S.A. Much time and effort was put forth to make the dance a complete success. Sherry Gilliam is shown here helping with some last minute decorations. Bob Williams gathered up some hay bails to give the lobby a barnyard effect.

This year there was not a band. Lon Sosh served as M.C. of the traveling disco. The dance lasted from eight o'clock until twelve. Jane Garrett and Randy Jedele are the student council sponsors and deserve a great deal of credit for a job well done. Student Council helped make '76 great.

SUMMER BREEZE

With music furnished by the TECHNIQUES, the senior class members and their dates spent their last "official" day of school dancing at the prom. After the long awaited moment had finally arrived, the prom-goers found themselves in the world of a "Summer Breeze." The gym had been decorated by several room mothers and parents to give it the look of a garden. The lobby was equipped with patio furniture, a bird bath, and even a fountain. The dance floor was decorated with an archway, lots of flowers, and tables lined the walls. The prom pictures were taken on a bridge surrounded by red roses and patio furniture.

Refreshments were also served by the parents. The menu consisted of finger sandwiches, chips and dips, various sweets, and punch served from a champagne fountain.

After dancing from ten 'til two, everyone got together for a breakfast at the Russellville Country Club. The breakfast was given by several class members and their parents. Sausage, bacon, eggs, fried potatoes, and biscuits were served.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the evening and appreciated the efforts of all the people involved. The senior prom will not be an evening quickly forgotten.

Dorothy Williams and Nola Joines are just two of the many room mothers and parents who spent late night hours working on decorations for the prom. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Joines are making paper flowers to decorate the archway. We appreciate all the work that the parents put in for the prom.

Looking ahead toward the future and taking a giant step into life was the main point of interest in George L. Atkins' Commencement address.

Marianne Rhea accepts the valedictorian award from Mr. Chelf. Marianne also was the recipient of the Thomas P. deGraffenried award and the Kiwanis Scholarship.

After several days of practice marching, the official graduation ceremonies begun. The Baccalaureate Service was held Sunday, May 23, 1976. David Duncan, Vice-President of the Senior Class, introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. Gary Duncan. The RHS Mixed Chorus and Male Quartet performed.

Commencement Services were held on Friday, May 28, 1976. The RHS singers performed again and Rhonda Simmons, President of the Senior Class, introduced Mr. George Atkins, Kentucky State Auditor, the evening's speaker.

After the address, the awards and scholarships were presented to the graduates. Winners were: MARIANNE RHEA- valedictorian, deGraffenried award, and Kiwanis Scholarship; CAY HARRIS- salutatorian, R.E. Stevenson Scholarship; KATHY VINCENT- third high, College Heights Scholarship WKU; DALE CLARK- Carpenter-Helm Scholarship; DEBBIE NASH- Younger Woman's Club Scholarship; JOHN GOODWIN- H.O. Price Memorial Award, Northwestern University Music Scholarship; RHONDA SIMMONS- H.O. Price Memorial Award, Regents Scholarship MSU; SARAH WEATHERFORD- Kelly Russell Memorial Scholarship; FORREST KILLEBREW- Kelly Russell Memorial Scholarship; TERRI HATCHETT- Alumni Scholarship WKU; KEVIN McREYNOLDS- College Heights Scholarship WKU; BOB HEDGES- FBLA Scholarship U of K; WANDA WYNN- NHS Scholarship; STEVE SUMMERS- Kentucky Highway Dept. Scholarship, Woodmen of the World WKU; RANDY WILKINS- Golf Scholarship U of K; STEVE LENNON- Rotary Scholarship (carpentry); TERRY JUSTICE- Rotary Scholarship (electricity); ELLA EVANS- Rotary Scholarship (health careers); KEENA SYDNOR- Rotary Scholarship (radio and TV repair). These people should be congratulated for their outstanding efforts.

There will never be another graduating class of 1976, but this is not the end-or the beginning of the end, but the end of the beginning.

Our

Jim Young
William Lynch, Maurice Linton,
Pauline Johnson

Members of the 1976 Board of Education were: Superintendent Jim Young, Chairman Wilfred Duncan, Joe Hardy, Dr. Alton Arney, Bob Kirkpatrick, and Dr. R.L. Yokley.

Task Masters

Several new teachers started at R.H. S. this year with new ideas. Now, there are even more male teachers than female. A total of 15 men on the staff are out to take over the teaching profession.

Superintendent Jim Young has finished his second year at the head post. Doing a grand job, he takes great interest in the students, school, and extra-curricular activities.

Others at the central office are Maurice "Buddy" Linton, Assistant Superintendent; William Lynch, Director of Pupil Personnel; Pauline Johnson, Supervisor of Instruction.

The school board meets every first Tuesday of the month to discuss any problems of new school policies which may have occurred. The board members are W.H. Duncan, Chairman; Joe Hardy, Dr. Alton Arney, R.L. Kirkpatrick, and Dr. R.L. Yokley.

A newly formed committee to administer DeGraffenried Enrichment Funds makes plans for speech, drama, journalism, chorus, and band. Members of this special committee include; Edie Martin. Don Neagle, and Henry Ashby.

In the front office here at the high school, things aren't always business. As principal, Larry Chelf seems to find time to stand in the hall at lunch and talk to students while drinking his iced tea. Overall he has done a good job to help keep strong student-teacher relationships.

Martha Jo Meguiar

Task Masters

A great lover of antiques, JO-ANNE FLOWERS takes great pride in her home. Anyone who has ever been in her house understands why. Her house, which is located at Schochoh, is filled with American furniture as well as many memories.

As a graduate of RHS she was valedictorian of her senior class. She won other honors such as the history and English awards.

Mrs. Flowers was deeply interested in drama while in high school. She had parts in all the productions as well as the lead in the Senior Day. Although Mrs. Flowers enjoys teaching school, she has experienced several other careers. She managed a hardware store, along with her husband, for 20 years. She also held several accounting and secretarial jobs.

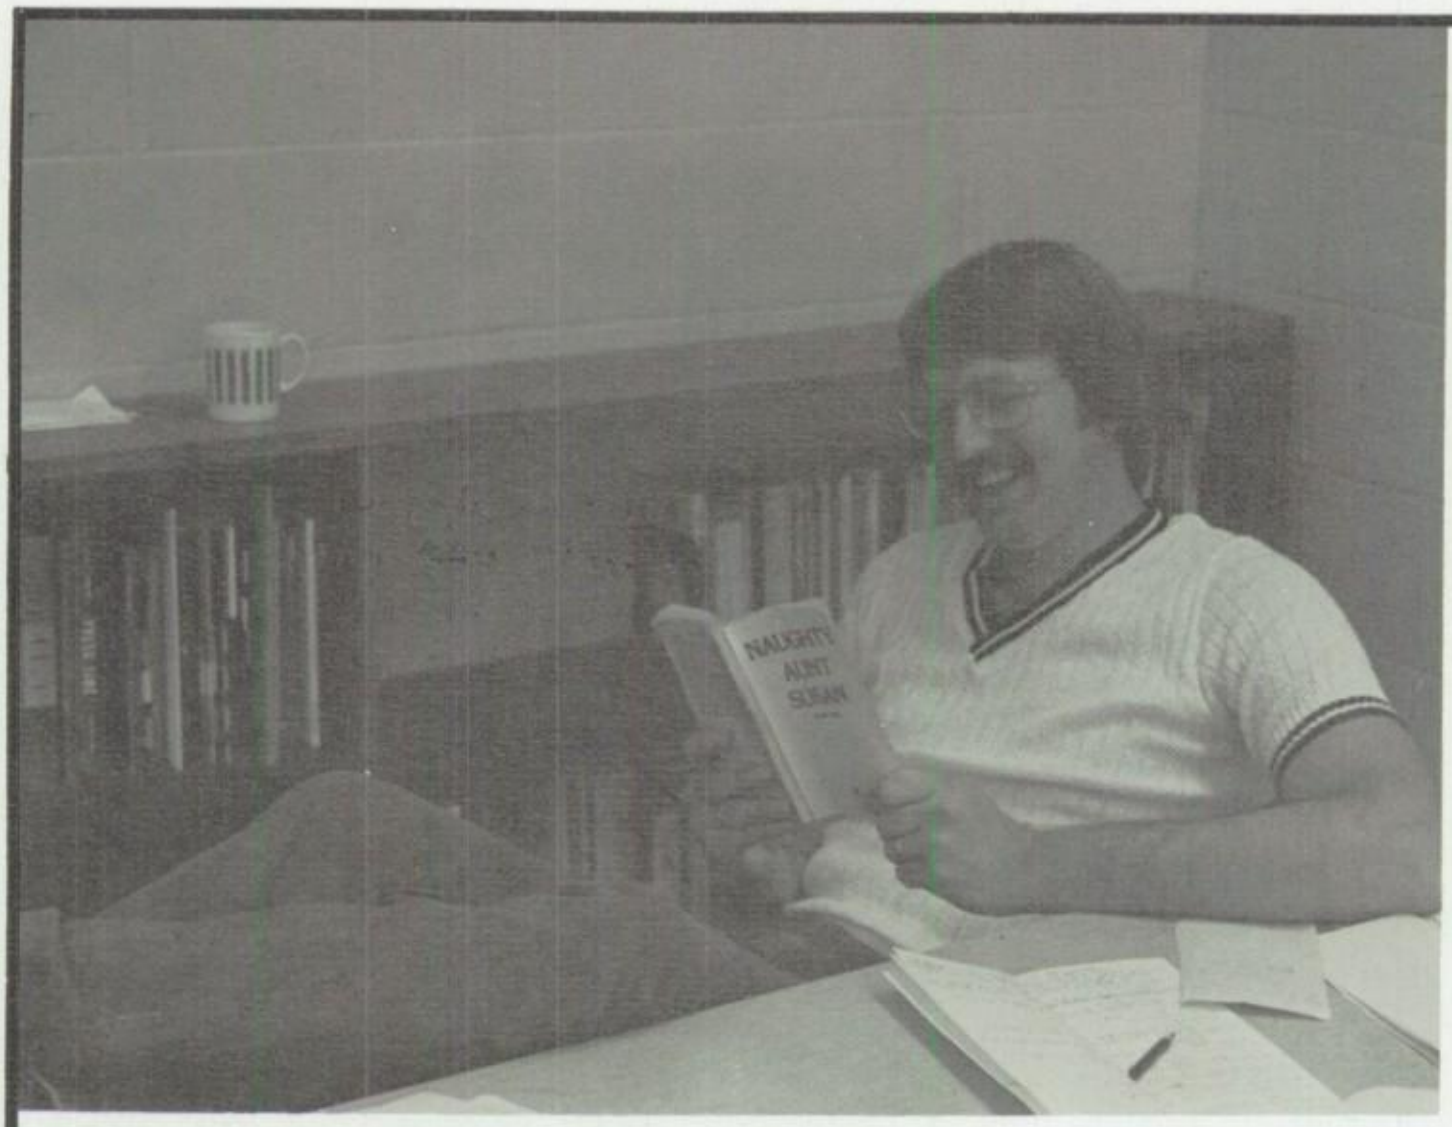
Joanne Flowers

Randy Jedele

RANDY JEDELE'S life long dream is to be four inches taller. Being small, however, has by no means hurt him. In the summer he finds time to be a lifeguard at a local pool in Bowling Green.

As a bachelor, Mr. Jedele is not in favor of Women's Lib, however he said, "If a woman wants equality, let her have it in all areas of life--including service and punishment." While attending high school at Iowa Falls, he recieved several speech and music awards. This year he has been very helpful to both the speech and drama, and music departments. He appeared in the musical, "Oklahoma," and helped chaperone and judge several speech tournaments.

Today is a day the Lord has made--let us rejoice and be glad therein."



Joe Marcum

Besides being a teacher, JOE MARCUM considers himself a "house-husband".

After attending a Warren County high school, he joined the Navy at the age of 17 for three years.

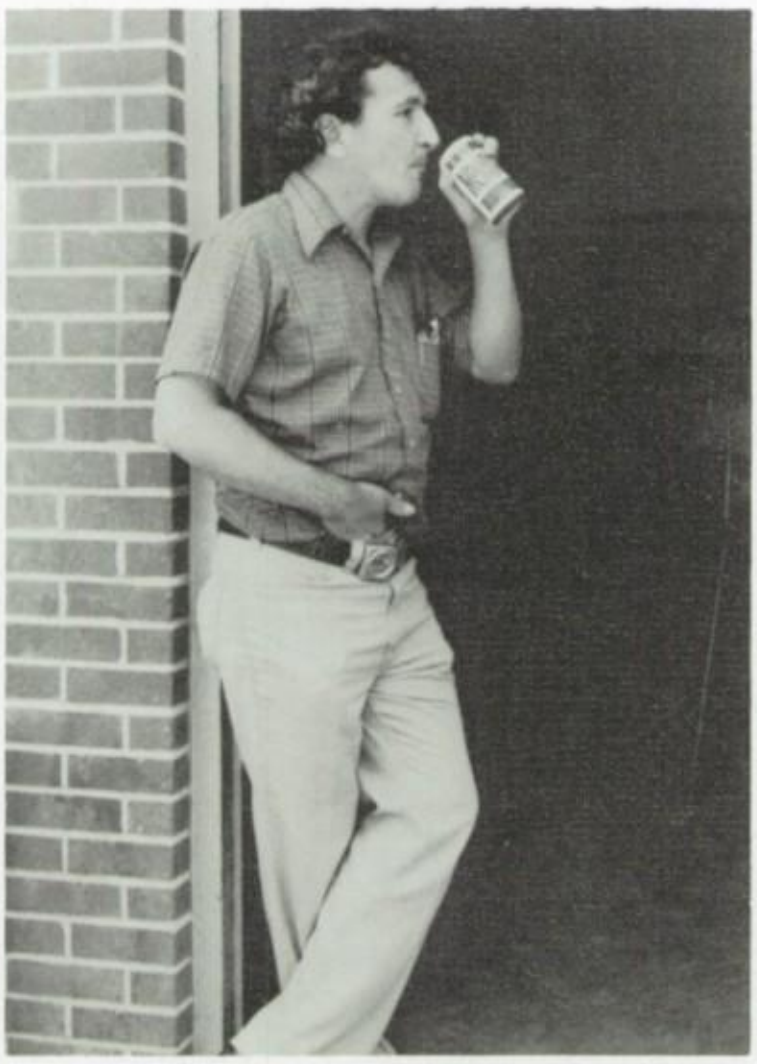
Mr. Marcum lives in Bowling Green where he worked at the Chrysler Air Temp plant last summer. He is married and has one child.

As a sponsor for the National Honor Society he is in charge of coordinating the programs for the club.

Beth Currence

Award winners for "The Arts" were: Marianne Rhea, Rhonda Simmons, Marjorie Flowers, Steve Smith, Jack Palmer, Paul Sansom, John Kees, Kenny Kerr, Tim Barr, George Offutt, and Samone Hardy. These awards are given in the areas of Music, Speech, Journalism, Woodshop, and Drafting.

Task Masters



Robert Armstrong

Olmstead High School graduate BETH CURRENCE would like to travel when she retires. She would also like to be a secretary some time after she quits teaching school.

Mrs. Currence graduated from Austin Peay University last summer where she majored in English and minored in speech. She is also a member of the Austin Peay Play House.

A natural beauty queen, Mrs. Currence was a member of the court on the 1968 Tobacco Festival Beauty Contest.

BOB ARMSTRONG could be called a "loafer." In fact, that is just what he did over spring break. He also intends to spend his retirement in the same manner.

A graduate of Marrowbone High School, Mr. Armstrong spent three years as a Paratrooper. He has also been a truck driver and worked at General Electric Assembly, where he assembled Edsels. He is married and has two children.

Jim Turner

Laura Ross

JIM TURNER is not only a speech teacher, but also the sports editor for the Logan Leader & News Democrat.

As a graduate of RHS, Mr. Turner was deeply interested in 4-H and was elected State President. He then went on to David Lipscomb and was elected student body president.

Here at RHS he is the Girls' Tennis Coach and Speech Coach. He spends his free time searching for speech tournaments materials.

LAURA ROSS, former MISS CAV-

David Corbin

ERNA, was very active while in high school. She was a member of the National Honor Society, editor of the yearbook, and won the Leadership Award.

She is single, lives in Bowling Green and enjoys camping, hiking, needlepoint, and breeding dogs.

DAVID CORBIN could be called a Jack-of-all-trades. Assistant manager of a pizza parlor, painter, wood-working, author, laying sewer pipes, truck driver, and band director, are just a few of the many careers he has been faced with.

Mr. Corbin is co-author with his band instructor, Earle Louder. They wrote "Euphonium Music Guide" which is to be published in June.

Mr. Corbin is striving for his lifelong dream to be a college music teacher.

Linda Netherland

Kathryne Jennings

KATHRYNE JENNINGS, librarian, enjoys spending her free time reading, and doing needlepoint. But back in her high school days at Central High in Columbia, Tenn., Miss Jennings played basketball.

Miss Jennings' experience as an N.H.S. member, may have helped her carry out duties as sponsor of our club.

things happen when no one else can. That's pretty good for someone who didn't start school until the second grade. Mrs. Carver attended Greenville High School where she was salutatorian of her senior class.

Mrs. Carver is a very creative person. She enjoys all types of arts and crafts, and she also enjoys cake decorating.

Mrs. Carver's work occupies much of her time because she teaches at the high school and the middle school.

DONNA WOFFORD believes, "Every man is guilty of the good he DIDN'T do." Her favorite TV show is "Welcome Back, Kotter." For a business teacher who admires Tweety Bird, that's not too bad. But seriously, when Mrs. Wofford was asked if she would be anyone else in the world, she replied, "my mother because of her character, concern and patience."

Mrs. Wofford attended high school at Salyersville, Kentucky where she received the DAR citizenship award. She went on to Morehead State University and majored in Business. Before coming to RHS, she taught at Bowling Green High for three years.

Charles Meisel

Rib-Eye, CHARLES MEISEL is deeply interested in cooking.

While attending Belmont College, Mr. Meisel's time was taken up with basketball, He was elected the Most Valuable Player in the Conference and played on the Ky-Tenn All Star Team. He was also elected Mr. Belmont during his senior year.

If Mr. Meisel could live his life over, he stated that he would not be a teacher, but rather a lawyer. He said he would also like to live somewhere near Lexington.

MATT TIPTON feels that "Action speaks louder than words." Anyone associated with him knows that this is true. He is known for striving to be the best.

Mr. Tipton graduated from Munford

Award winners were: Beverly Williams, Terry Martin, Marjorie Flowers, Tammy Lee, Theresa Wood, Teresa Williams, Renee Fuqua, Catherine Hancock, Lorna Bailey. All of these girls won awards which were based on grade point averages.

Matt Tipton

Floyd Burnsed

High School in Munford, Tenn. Then he went on to Austin Peay University. He has just finished his Master Program at Western Kentucky University.

FLOYD BURNSED was a very successful track star while at William Boone High School in Orlando, Florida and at W.K.U. Now, as head track coach here at R.H.S., he has been equally successfull. In his younger days he was a letterman in football, basketball, and track; high school state champion pole-vaulter; and he holds the Ball State Nationals Relay Record.

This past year he was elected the Coach of the Year for his great ability to coach the boys' track team to a State Championship.

After graduating from Western, he served in the Air Force for two years. Then he came to R.H.S. to be assistant football and basketball coach, and head track coach.

Being a newly wed this year, Coach Burnsed considers himself the "boss of the family". But about women's lib, he said, "I like some of it; especially any part that benefits man!"

Task Masters

Football coach WAYNE SHEWMAKER spent the summer of '75 as Youth Conservation Corps group leader. They were in charge of constructing a nature trail at the City Park.

Coach Shewmaker is a very hard working person. This is illustrated when he helped form the greenhouse for the Science Club. As a sponsor he has helped students contribute to the scientific needs of the school. This year they have been planning to construct a pond near the track.

A graduate of Austin Peay University, Coach Shewmaker is married and has three girls. They live on Shelton Lane here in Russellville.

MARY ANN STEELE, former RHS graduate is quoted as saying she "likes her husband most of the time." That's not all she likes. She also enjoys gardening, fishing, traveling,

As a graduate of RHS and David Lipscomb, Mrs. Turner's main interests in school were basketball and academics.

In her spare time she enjoys working with crafts. She has sold some of her work here at school.

Mrs. Turner teaches practical and technical biology and is looking forward to teaching Environmental Science next year.

SANDY WILHELM'S philosophy of life is "Don't do anything today you can put off until tomorrow." Receiving the DAR good citizenship award in high school and being on the dean's list in college shows, however, that she can still get the work done.

Mrs. Wilhelm enjoys gardening, sewing and skiing. Her house and two children seem to take up a lot of her time, but she says she enjoys it.

Always on the go, MARIE LENNON is never still. She is constantly working with both the varsity and the JV cheerleading squad. She attends all ballgames and practices.

Miss Lennon is also the 4-H and FHA sponsor. While in high school, here at RHS, she was president of the FHA club for two years.

Traveling is one of Miss Lennon's hobbies. Last summer she went to Hawaii and North Carolina.

Senior sponsor LARRY BROWN is graduating just like the rest of the seniors. Leaving the teaching profession,

Mr. Brown attended Middle Tennessee where he was interested in basketball.

A graduate of Franklin-Simpson High School JANE GARRETT won the DAR citizenship award. In college she was awarded the Baush-Lomb Science Award, was a member of Pi Mu Epsilon and she graduated Magna Cum Laude.

Miss Garrett has had several different jobs, including farming, bailing hay and showing cattle.

Miss Garrett's life-long dream is to just be happy, although she feels that a lot of money would help.

Mike Houston

MIKE HOUSTON's life-long dream is to be a part of a state football Championship team. Mr. Houston's hobbies are sailing and fishing. He is married and has two children. When asked if he had his life to live over would he still be a teacher, he replied, "yes, only sooner."

MIKE ROBERTS enjoys hunting and other outdoor activities. Living on a farm seven miles north of Russellville, takes up most of his free time. One of his main jobs is a 2-acre tobacco crop.

Mike Roberts

Graduating from an Indiana high school, his main interests were math and science. Later, his college interests changed to social sciences.

Mr. Roberts' hobby is collecting and showing silent movies. At the end of each school year, he shares this with his classes.

MARGARET TAYLOR, a Rockfield housewife, is the Spanish teacher here at RHS. She is also an English teacher. Much of her time is taken up caring for her small son.

Mrs. Taylor's main interest in school was making grades. She graduated from Edmonson County, then she went to Western. She is a nature lover who enjoys sewing and bike riding.

HELEN CARPENTER is very happy being a teacher here at RHS. She feels that she has chosen the best profession in the world. She said, "Imagine being paid to continue studying the most fascinating subjects in the world--all the social studies."

The mother of one, Mrs. Carpenter enjoys spending all of her free time with her husband and grandson.

A graduate of Murray State University PEGGY REEDER enjoys playing golf. She tells us that her main interest at MSU was Mr. Reeder.

Mrs. Reeder is a sponsor for NHS,

Task Masters

Every school has to have a certain number of teachers and staff members to make the whole system work.

Here at RHS we have one of the most outstanding staffs in the state. Each teacher is a sponsor of a club and becomes personally involved in the extra-curricular activities. The men and women in the front office work together to help keep a good student-teacher relationship. This year the PANTHER staff decided to look at our teaching staff as people in every-day life, because teachers are a vital part of the school.

The 1976 Vocational School Staff consisted of: Kenneth Bond, Larry Reeder, Principal William Brown, Chester Vincent, Jim Netherland, Joe Perkins, Maurice Grayson, Luther Bagwell, Roy Herndon, Joyce Bilyeau, Jim Little, Lilly Griffin, Gloria Robinson, and Peggy Violett

The 1976 Cafeteria Workers were: Mrs. Betty Chestnut, Mrs. Mary Slaton, Mrs. Oleta Outland, and Mrs. Alberta Browder. These ladies not only prepare daily lunch but also many annual banquets.

Serving as the Russellville High School Janitors this year were: Mr. Jerry Long, Mr. Frances Travis, and Mr. Tandy Chestnut. Not pictured is Marine Embry.

Jerry Allen prepares to take down an opponent with Craig Johns close behind.

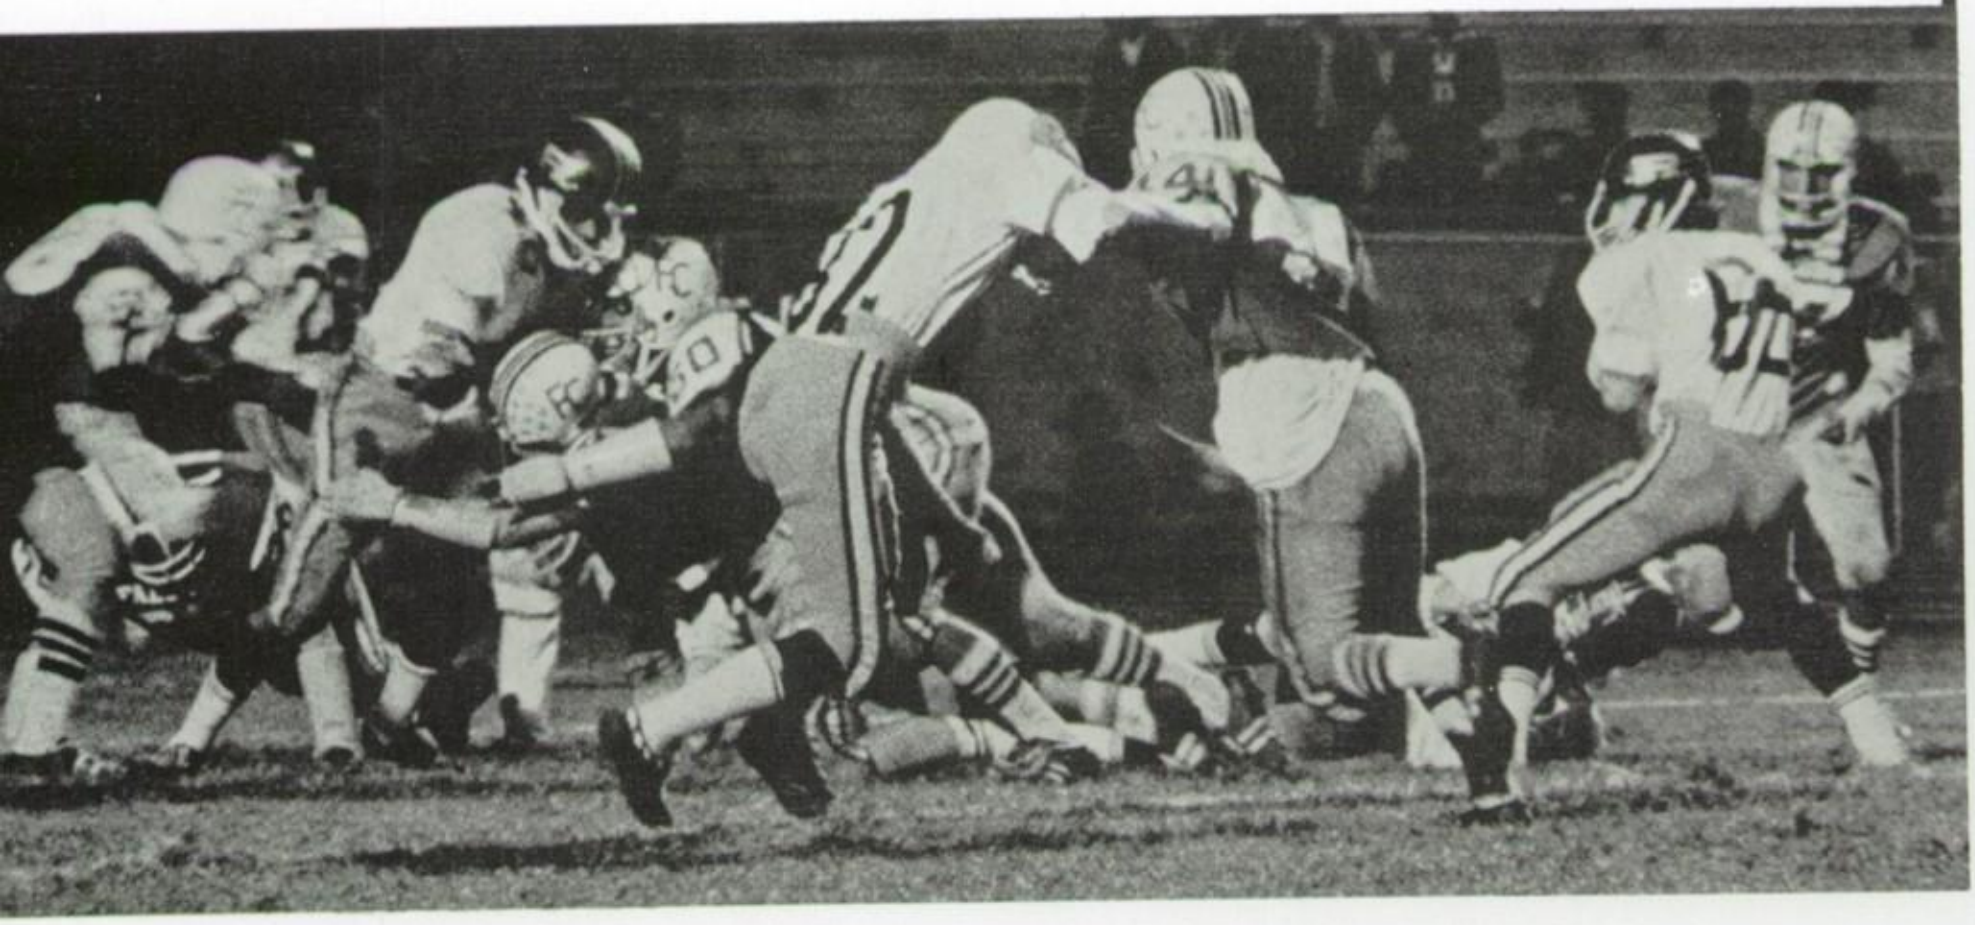
The managers for the 1975 RHS Panthers football team were, Front Row: Troy Henning, Stuart Posey, Bernard Bellamy. Back Row: Cary McMillin, Dale Clark, and Andy Humphries.

The 1975 RHS football season was, for some, a season of despair while for others it was a time of triumph.

By the end of the season, the win-loss record of the team did not look quite as desirable as people had hoped at the beginning of the season. However, the team had worked hard during the season, no matter what the record said.

Some of the statistics for the year weren't so bad either. Greg Meacham kicked some of the longest field goals he had ever kicked, and Jerry Allen had the most catches of passed balls in the state. It is signs such as these that show the team did work hard at the game, whether they won or not.

Greg Meacham, Above, prepares to boot another field goal, while Below, the mad scramble for "the man with the ball" takes place on the field again.



RHS Baseball

The 1976 season for the RHS baseball team proved to be an exciting season for fans and players alike. The Panthers, coached by Wayne Shewmaker, had a winning season. Things really looked promising at the beginning of the season, when, at one time, the team had a 7-1 win-loss record. The team rounded up the season with a record of eleven wins and nine losses.

The district tournament was played at the Auburn High field this year. The Panthers' season ended on May 11, when the team lost to Todd Central 8-6.

Mike Lee, in his first year on the high school team, ended the season as the pitcher with the best win-loss record. Greg Meacham had the highest batting average on the team.

Nine team members hit doubles during the season, with Meacham leading with four. Joe Foster followed with three. Kevin Hines and Ronnie Croslin both hit two. Others hitting doubles were Reeves, Sydnor, Smith, McKenzie, and Farmer. Meacham, Smith and Reeves hit homeruns.

Boys Basketball

Boys' basketball coach, Mickey Meguiar, managed to lead his players through the playing season without a number of injuries on the team. Forrest Killebrew, upon whose great jumping ability the team hoped to depend, was aggravated during the season by a strained ankle. The sky-reaching center still managed to climb the boards for the much-needed rebounds for most of the games.

The 1975-76 basketball season was noted for its ups and downs, in more ways than one. Besides the usual up and down movement while dribbling the ball, and the great amount of jumping that is essential to the game, the Panthers had both a number of high and low peaks. At one point during the season, the team looked quite strong, but this view faded out after the loss of a few games. The fans refused to respond, attendance to the games fell, and the team, as a result of the lack of fan support and pep, suffered.

Interest in the team was rekindled at district tournament time, when the old inter-county bickerings arose, since some of the teams had refused to play except on their courts. Some fine basketball was played, however; the team lost in the end.

Girls' Basketball

It's a rough battle under the boards during a home game.

The girls' basketball team had an exciting season and many rough games this year. While the team, coached by Matt Tipton, really worked hard, both during practices and the games themselves, they had some stiff competition from other girls' teams, especially from our county high schools. While the team's win-loss record doesn't look so well, the team member's season proved they could work hard and try harder to prove their worth.

The basketball squad had several senior members on the team. They were Priscilla Lewis, Sarah Weatherford, and Cay Harris, who won the WAKQ Award at the All-Sports Banquet.

Coach Matt Tipton noted the amount of work the girls put into practices and the games, and their fierce competitive spirit which wouldn't die. Next year he expects a team that could prove to be the best yet.

Varsity Cheerleaders

The varsity cheerleading squad for 1975 and '76 worked hard this year to keep morale up and raise pep among both the teams and the fans at the games. Squad captain Diane Gilliam and cheerleading sponsor Marie Lennon kept the girls busy at practices and games.

The squad attended a cheerleading camp at Western this summer after their election, where they learned new cheers, new techniques, and how to do them right.

Jr. Varsity Cheerleaders

The 1975-76 Junior Varsity Cheerleading Squad put in a year of hard work at both practices and games, raising pep and support of the teams they cheered for. The J.V. squad led cheers this year for the girls' basketball games and the junior varsity boys' games.

Squad captain Terri Stevenson and sponsor Marie Lennon worked the squad for improvement during the year of cheering.

Boys Track Regional Champs State Runner-up

Boys' track coach Floyd Burnsed kept RHS male track team strong by adding new members and strengthening and re-building last year's team. He added pole vaulting to the list of track and field events the team participates in, which aided the team in receiving points that led to winning meets. Coach Burnsed is seen at right.

The year was successful for the team, which competed during the season with many larger schools with strong and usually, larger teams. One of the closer meets was held at RHS with Fort Campbell. The scoring of both teams was close, with the deciding points resting with the outcome of the long jump. Track Star Forrest Killebrew held up and managed to win the event by a mere couple of inches.

The male track members continued doing well as the season progressed, and the time of the most important meet for the team quickly arrived. The Panthers became the regional champions at the regional tournament held at Western Kentucky University. Ten team members qualified for the state tournament.

Those ten continued to give all they had, and the team placed second in the state. By far the biggest star was Forrest Killebrew, who placed in three events.

The 1976 golf team, coached by Mickey Meguiar, experienced one of its more successful seasons this year. The team had a number of wins on its record for the season, and two members qualified for state.

At the Bowling Green Invitational Tournament, RHS finished first among many of the good teams from across the state. At the Kentucky Invitational Tourney, the team finished sixth, while at the Marshall County match, formerly the WKC, the team placed second. SKY was held at Glasgow, and the RHS team was victorious, with Randy Wilkins the medalist.

For the second straight year, the Russellville duffers won in the regional competition. Randy Wilkins and Charlie Ray qualified for state, where they finished fifth.

Girls' Track

Regional Champs

The girls' track team had an excellent season this year, as the team ran to both a regional title and SKY championship.

The girls had tough competition all during the 1976 season. Team members trained hard and long all season, working mainly for the regional tournament. Among those who worked hardest were the four relay teams.

The team's skill and endurance was tested first at the SKY Tournament, where they showed their true potential by winning the title May 14, at Bowling Green. There, they beat the defending champion, Hancock County, 51-46

All four of the relay teams won at region. Members of those teams are Dede Jones, Jackie Crenshaw, Katie Morris, Sherri Bellamy, Sarah Weatherford, Hatti Sydnor, Anita Beard, and Debbie Rosser. Hatti was injured and had to sit out, so Sharon Gowan took her place.

Boys' Tennis

Coach Gene Heffington's boys' tennis team is a young team that improves with experience, as the 1976 season shows. At one time during the season, the team had four straight wins, defeating Todd County, Greenville, Butler County, and Todd again. The team placed third at SKY.

Jeff Klein and Randy Fuqua went to regionals in singles, while Ricky Smith and Kevin Robbins were partners in the doubles event at the same tournament. Jeff held the best singles record during the season, while Randy played third on the team. Ricky and Kevin had the best doubles record during the season. The doubles team played very well yet was defeated in semifinals.

The team this season was make up of only ten team members. Ricky Smith, the number one player, was the only senior on the team, of six high school players. The other four members of the team were from the middle school. Scott Gregory, who played fourth position on the team, was out of action for two weeks with a leg injury.

Girls Tennis

Coach Jim Turner kept his girls' tennis team strong this year by adding new and younger members to the already experienced team. This paid off in the end, as they finished their season with an excellent winning record.

The team constantly improved during the season, and the big test occurred at the regional tournament. There, doubles partners Dana Richardson and Pam Statton played until they were defeated in the semi-finals.

The biggest match of the tournament proved to be when both singles players from RHS, Renee Fuqua and Sandra Eggleston, made it to finals and had to play each other. After a set of fine playing, Sandra defeated Renee, becoming the regional champ.

Both Renee and Sandra had excellent playing seasons this year. Renee played in the number one position on the team during the year, with a fine record. Sandra played excellent tennis during the season, being defeated once.

The two top honors for RHS athletes went to Ricky Smith, who won the Mayor's Trophy, and Cay Harris, who was the WAKQ Academic winner.

On Tuesday night, May 25, the coaching staff of RHS honored its athletes during the annual sports awards program. Athletes of all sports were recognized either as award winners or as being lettermen.

While sports at the first of the 1975-76 school year had some rough knocks, the coaches still praised their team members for their hard work and spirit of competition.

The spring sports season made up entirely for the disappointing seasonal records of the earlier-in-the-year-sports.

The baseball team had a winning record for the season, as did the Girls' Track, Boys' Track, Golf, and Girls' Tennis Teams. We are proud of spring sports for winning many state awards.

Sports Revue

There are ups and downs in every sport. While the ups are undoubtedly the better of the two, there is always the occasion when an athlete gets that sinking feeling . . . perhaps when he is about to crash into a concrete wall after making an impossible shot, or making a great catch, but surrounded by the opponent on every side, and, of course, there's always that time when you are out in front, but so tired that the fellow behind appears to be catching up . . .

RHS sports have had their share of ups and downs this year. So have the fans. When one goes up, so does the other. The same occurs when one of the other goes down.

In a sports-oriented society, the fans are just as essential to the game as the athletes participating in the actual playing of the game. In a sense, the fans are participants also, because fans can make--or break--a team.

Organizations

Russellville High School was full of involvement during the 1975-1976 school year. Many of the clubs had their best year. Different ideas and projects were done and each organization had a special meaning in their group.

The RHS Marching Band began with a week of practice in the hot, hot sun before the new school year. They also attended a summer band camp and marched for miles each day. The band is under the direction of Mr. Corbin and drum major, Kevin McReynolds. Kevin is the first male drum major in the history of the school. He and John Goodwin were awarded the John Phillip Sousa Award. This award is given to the most outstanding senior band member. Other band members were awarded with superior ratings at contest. This year was one of the best band years at RHS.

Russellville High School has always had an extremely talented vocal department. Mrs. Carver is the director of all the chorus groups and she has reason to be proud of her groups. Many of the RHS students were named to the All State and All District Chorus. One of her most talented group of singers is the Swing Choir. It is offered as a class but there is much outside work. The group performs for many banquets and civic meetings. The music department also had their second musical. There were 70 RHS students in the cast. With a combination of dramatic and musical ability Mrs. Carver and the cast made "Oklahoma!" a great success.

The 4-H Club participated in several activities this year. Among these were 2 National Beef Shows, 2 champion demonstrations, 1 champion speech. They also sponsored a talent show and several of the local talent participated. 4-H sponsored the Community Pride Project for the county. Two active students from RHS attended the National Club Congress in Washington D.C. They were freshman Cheryl Huffines and sophomore Denny Price.

Statistics help tell the story of the kind of year the Speech and Drama Club had. When the team finished its sixteenth tournament in April, 20 different people had won 84 individual awards. Ten entries were on their way to national tournaments, and the team could boast of four state championships.

As a group, the club won sweepstake championships in four tournaments, including the regional, and placed second in eight others. Two of those runner-up spots were in state tournaments-Kentucky High School Speech League and National Catholic Forensic League.

Elizabeth Wilson and Catherine Hancock won trips to the National Forensic League Nationals in Colorado Springs by winning the state in extemp.

The RHS Marching Panther Band is ready to perform at Rhea Stadium. During the entire football season, the crowds enjoyed their music and half time shows.

Band director, David Corbin helps prepare Kevin McReynolds, drum major, for the half time show. Together, Mr. Corbin and Kevin led the band to one of its most successful years yet.

Diane Gilliam won the state in poetry and Catherine won in extemp at NCFL. Those three plus Marianne Rhea, Shannon Kirkpatrick, Duane Spurlock, Tammy Hankins, and Belinda Morris earned trips to NCFL Grand Nationals in Detroit by placing in the top three in the state.

Marianne was named a finalist in the Outstanding Speech Student of Kentucky competition--the first RHS speaker to win that honor. She led the team with 14 awards, while Elizabeth had 12, Catherine 10, Diane, Shannon, and Sonya Violett 7 each, and sophomores Belinda Morris and Beverly Williamson 6 each.

Sanya was state runner-up in oratory. Beverly was third in extemp at NFL and Catherine was third at state. Archie Gordon, a senior who spoke in his first tournament in January, placed third in prose. Jay Joines and Sherry Gilliam were fourth in duet at state.

There is no way to keep statistics in drama, but Coach Jim Turner felt the year was just as successful in the department. With a commitment to produce only the best in drama, the club produced classics-THE WOMEN, THE NUTCRACKER and OUR TOWN as well as a Bicentennial Salute to American Drama to close out the year.

There were three firsts in drama. The club presented its first dinner theatre with

Flag Corps & Majorettes

The Russellville High School flag corps and majorettes provided the crowds with enjoyable half-time shows. The flag corps consisted of Sarah Skipworth, Gail Wood, Tammy Lee, Karen Covington, Teresa Shewmaker, Lisa Nuyt, Lisa Sanko and Sherrie Farmer. The majorettes were Julie McMillian, Terry Martin, Doris McCormick and LeAnne Hines. All the majorettes were from the senior class.

Five Russellville High School students made the All State Chorus. To receive this honor a student must learn a song and perform in front of judges to receive a rating. Tim Barr, Marjorie Flowers, Andy Humphries, Samone Hardy and Jack Palmer went to Louisville to sing with other students from Kentucky in the chorus. All District Chorus this year was held at Western with the music director from Georgetown College. Many RHS students participated in this event. The RHS concert band has around 55 members and they give a concert every spring.

The office workers are reliable students who help in the office during their study halls. They do many of the tedious chores; running the absentee lists to every room, answering the telephone, running off tests, and taking messages to the teachers. Their help is greatly appreciated.

THE WOMEN. THE NUTCRACKER was the first Children's Theatre production. OUR TOWN was the first play presented away from deGraffenried Auditorium. The play which received the best audience reaction ever given, was presented at Stevenson Elementary in a dinner theatre.

This was the first year of the use of the deGraffenried Enrichment Funds to free Mr. Turner to work with speech and drama and journalism. Apparently the experiment of the fund was a success as the Speech and Drama Club experienced its best year ever.

As always the RHS Pep Club was the

The Russellville High School 4-H Club is very active in the county and area program. Miss Marie Lennon is their sponsor.

The Speech and Drama Club officers for this year were: Liz Wilson, Pres: Marianne Rhea, Ex. Vice-Pres; Diane Gilliam, Catherine Hancock, and Renee Fuqua, Vice-Pres; Rhonda Simmons, Treas; and Shannon Kirkpatrick, Sec. Liz Wilson, two time state winner in ex-temp, is ranked in the top 25 in the nation for NFL. She and Catherine will travel to Colorado this summer for speech.

largest club at school. The club sponsored the homecoming week. For the second year students were able to purchase corsages to wear to the homecoming game, thanks to the hard work of the Pep Club. The spirit of RHS pride was felt this year when the Pep Club had competition between the classes for the spirit stick. The officers for this year were: Pres, Rhonda Simmons; Vice-Pres, Liz Wilson; Sec, Sandra Graham; and Treas, Cathy Wheeler. Panther Pride will live on forever, especially with such student involvement and spirit.

The Art Club is newly formed this year and unique to Russellville High School. The member's goals include developing a better art awareness in themselves, the school and the community with activities which hopefully will accomplish this development. Any student who has the desire to meet these criteria is invited to join the club.

The second semester the Art Club raised money to take field trips to the Central South Exhibiton and the Tennessee

Freshman-Sophomore Pep Club

Arts and Crafts Festival in Nashville. Both should be enjoyable.

The club has silk-screened T-Shirts with their own original art symbol. (designed by Duane Spurlock) They are planning to create a design for original silk-screened T-shirts for the RHS students.

The clubs next objective is to purchase facilities for exhibiting student art work in the school and community.

The Student Council has gotten back on its feet after several years of non-involvement. They sponsored the annual

Junior-Senior Pep Club

Projects

There is never a dull moment at RHS with all the extra projects. The pictures on the opposite page show some of the fun sponsored projects. The first picture is of the powderpuff football game which was sponsored by the Student Council. Next Tim Barr, an All State Chorus member, performs in his Swing Choir costume. Cater Hancock and his sister, Ginny, are waiting for the bus to take them to one of the parades where the band will be marching. Christmas is always full of extra projects and NHS had a party. Sharon Dockins, Jeff White, Kevin McReynolds, and Pam Jureka led the group in songs.

The picture on the right is of two Junior tug-of-war team members, David Ashby and Joe Foster. Below is a "must" project for clubs-concessions.

Powder-Puff Football Game and the Jr.-Sr. team won by a landslide. The Christmas boxes to the underprivileged families has always been a project sponsored by the council. The whole student body helps by bringing old toys and canned goods. The club was able to give a few families a Merry Christmas. A new project this year was the flying of the Bicentennial flag. Council members were responsible for the raising and lowering of it. The Student Council had some new and exciting ideas this year. One was Superstars Day. Each class competed for a trophy in races, tug-of-war, egg toss and many more games. The idea was taken from the ABC TV show. Some clubs had booths to make money and the students enjoyed the day. The council sponsored its second annual dance a little differently this year. It was a Sadie Hawkins Dance and it was held in the lobby. The WAKQ Traveling Disco provided the music for four hours.

Each summer some members of Student Council attend workshop held at Georgetown College. While there, they learn exactly what it takes to have a good council and how to organize some money making projects. The students who went last summer were Jack Palmer, Shannon Kirkpatrick, Renee Fuqua and Sonya Violett. The officers for this year were: Marianne Rhea, Pres; Terry McKenzie, Vice-Pres; Liz Wilson, Recording Sec; Diane Gilliam, Corresponding Sec; and Shannon Kirkpatrick, Treas.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America can proudly say, "It's been great!" At Russellville High School they are involved in learning to make money in marketing and distribution. They have participated in the Tobacco Festival, gone to workshop and regional at Western Kentucky University, and gone on to the

Art Club

Louisville Galt House for State competition. They were proud to have Mr. Meisel do so well during his first year.

As DECA said, "Everything in life has its UPS and DOWNS . . . our UPS were all the activities we participated in together; our DOWNS are ending it all and saying "good-bye" to our Senior members!"

You could say FHA really had their hearts into it this year, because the Queen of Hearts Queen was chosen from their chapter. Nancy Humphries was crowned Queen at a fund raising banquet. The RHS Future Homemakers collected more money than any club in the county for the heart drive.

FHA attended 2 Regional meetings. These meetings were helpful in the organization of their chapter. If a club can work together as well as FHA has this year, many goals can be reached.

The Rho Chi Sigma science club had the largest enrollment in its history, with a membership of eighty-four.

The use of the greenhouse fulfills a dream of many years' work and planning by the club. In addition, the construction of a storage building to facilitate the use of the greenhouse has met a need. This was the first club activity of the year.

Continuing projects have been the maintenance of the science park and the invitational science fair. The fair proved to be the most successful one the club has sponsored.

Members participated in the Southern Kentucky Regional Fair at Western in April, bringing home several awards.

Two outstanding trips were enjoyed. The first trip, made in October, was to Bernheim Forest with stops at the Lincoln Memorial and My Old Kentucky Home. In April thirty-eight members spent a weekend at the Environmental Center at the Land Between the Lakes.

Student Council

The Science Club is definitely a service club. They collect aluminum for recycling. They receive money, but they also help to clean the community. There are great plans in store!

DECA, Above, has many hard working members who are employed in Russellville by many businesses. The FHA Club, Below, decided to make uniforms. This club sponsored a Christmas toy drive and many other projects.

Science Club

SAE

A very active club this year, SAE, paid for and planted a pin oak to beautify the school grounds. They also contributed $130 toward buying a potters' wheel for the Art Department. Six of the members spent their Saturday mornings tutoring dyslexic children. Each year there is a week designated by the mayor as SAE week. Members put up posters and write articles for the newspaper. Club members are on the air from the Russellville Radio Station, where they explain the function and activities of SAE. Mrs. Flowers, one of the club sponsors, has a picnic at her beautiful farm home. Mrs. Currence and Mr. Brown are club sponsors, also.

The Russellville High School SAE (Student Action for Education) is very active in District SAE. Penny Vaughn is District Three Treas. The club attended the State SAE meeting in Louisville. They placed second for the outstanding club of the year. We think Russellville has a successful SAE Club. They work hard but they believe that is what their name implies: STUDENT ACTION FOR EDUCATION.

The club, Teens Who Care, is exactly what the name implies. It is a club of teenagers who are interested in devoting some time to help the aged, or retarded.

In its second year at Russellville High School the Teens Who Care have done many worthwhile projects. Interested members took a trip to Outwood Mental Hospital and found it to be helpful in understanding mental illness. The club also sent Valentine cards to the D.S.D. Nursing Home patients. Many other projects were discussed and carried through. The officers were: Sharon Dockins, Pres; Renee Fuqua, Vice-Pres; Sandra Graham; Treas; Shannon Kirkpatrick, Sec; Debbie Williams, Reporter. Teens Who Care really CARE!!

The National Honor Society did many service projects this year. The first was the Regional Workshop held in the RHS lobby. Many schools from this area and the Louisville area were there. The clubs discussed some of their projects and shared ideas with other clubs.

National Honor Society had a large number of members to attend the state convention in Louisville. NHS provides the local newspaper with the school news. The Thanksgiving baskets is a yearly project and they are given to patients of a nursing home. Seniors who graduate with a 90 or above average forthe four years receive and honor cord from NHS. National Honor Society was founded on the principles of Leadership, Scholorship, Character and Service. The officers for this year were: Renee Fuqua, Pres; Steve Summers, Vice-Pres; Andy Humphries, Treas; Debbie Williams, Sec; and Terry Martin, Typist. The sponsors were: Miss Jennings, Mrs. Reeder, Mr. Marcum.

The Russellville High School newspaper is the Panther Chatter. It was not published last year, but with the help of the deGraffenried fund it was made possible this year. Mr. Turner, also the Speech coach, is the supervisor. It is written by the journalism class and published at the Logan Leader-News Democrat office. There were six issues, all of which had eight pages. The class tried to go more with pictures and features instead of gossip. The publication is very professional and the students always enjoy reading the stories. The class has taken a tour of the newspaper office and they are now aware of the difficulty of the publication.

The Chatter staff is on their tour of the paper office. The editors this year were Marianne Rhea and Duane Spurlock. The publication board was Katie Tinch, Belinda Morris, Mike Robbins, Lloyd Howlett, and Mike Baugh. Other members of the staff were Jeff Klein, Denny Price, Don Menser, Debbie Shoemaker, Bob Williams, Regina White, Teresa Shewmaker, and Melanie Markham. Ronnie Gibson, a former student at Russellville High, helped, but he left in the middle of the year. The publications are ten cents and are sold during homeroom. Students enjoy reading them and seeing their pictures. Mr. Turner does a lot of hard work and is admired and greatly appreciated by the students.

Much time and effort goes into the creation of a yearbook. This year we have worked hard to make it a little different from any other annual Russellville High School has ever had. We have added several new layouts and changed many of the old ones.

There have been several students who have contributed their efforts to the yearbook, even though they were not originally on the staff- Robert Bell, Kenneth Bellamy, Elizabeth Wilson, and Beverly Williamson.

Rhonda Simmons and Sharon Dockins, the editors, have put many backbreaking hours into this publication. Mrs. Wofford, the advisor, has been a great help and has always been there when she is needed. Diane Gilliam has worked every day during her study hall to make this publication possible.

We hope you will enjoy this book, and look at the changes with an open mind. We have tried to be different, not just to be different, but to be better.

Russellville High School will continue to be an active school with such great teachers and involved students.

Working for the Gang

Below: Decorating the team bus is one of the duties of a Pep Club member. Renee Fuqua, Sandra Graham, and Elizabeth Wilson spend the afternoon preparing for an away game. Not only does the Pep Club decorate the bus, but also, the locker rooms and the school hallways. Right: Rhonda Simmons looks away from applying Craig Johns' make-up for a moment during the production of MASH. Lower Right: Dede Jones takes a break in the concession stand. The stand is open during the day for students to work on special club projects and for sign painting. It also provides a good resting place.

It began with the arrival of 155 new faces and ended after the 115 old ones graduated. This has been a different kind of year, Unique-- you might say. Perhaps it hasn't appeared so on the surface, but it really has been very special.

The teachers say it has been a special year because of the general attitude of the student body. Things were still a little bit crazy here, but it was a different kind of craze, more calm and with a purpose. The senior class thought it was different, too, and said so as they boarded the busses to go to Mammoth Cave for the second time.

Yes, 1976 has been a different kind of year, but people are still people. Even though the methods and the motives were different, the emotions and the feelings were still the same. It was a good year--a different year--See the changes.
